Home in Russell Estates Is Invaded By Three Youths Early Sunday Morning

The invasion of a Russell Estates home early Sunday morning by three youths, who apparently had been drinking, is being continued this week by members of the Township police detective bureau.

As reported by Lt. Mario Musso, the family members of a home on Beatty Court were asleep when they were awakened at 1:07 in the morning by loud screams and bangs from the front porch. The home owner went to investigate and as he entered the front foyer, he discovered the front door had been kicked in. Three white males, all about 18 years old, were standing in the foyer area inside the house.

The home owner told police later that he detected an odor of alcohol and the three appeared to be drinking. When he attempted to escort them outside, Lt. Musso said, the three youths grabbed him and threw him to the floor. At this point, the victim's 18-year-old son and two friends who had been sleeping over came downstairs and engaged the three intruders in fisticuffs.

The owner's son, Lt. Musso said, struck one of the three over the head with a baseball bat before they all fled on foot. All three suspects are described as 5-10 to 6-0 tall, and weigh about 170 pounds. One had blonde hair and wore a pink, oxford button-down shirt and blue jeans. A second had brown hair and wore a white T-shirt and blue jeans; the third suspect had black hair and wore a blue T-shirt and jeans. Lt. Musso said that none of the occupants recognized the suspects.

DOT Files Alignment Preservation Map for Rt. 92 But Princeton Bypass Is Still Eight Years Away

A set of plans for Route 92, labelled Alignment Preservation Map, has been filed with the Planning Board, along with a letter signed by the Deputy Department of Transportation Commissioner Robert A. Innocenzi "certifying" that the plans have been approved by the Commissioner as the "proposed alignment of Route 92."

According to Douglas Webb, project engineer, the filing of an alignment preservation map is a mechanism by which the DOT can be alerted to development plans in the path of the right-of-way for the proposed highway and take appropriate action. The Planning Board is now required to notify the DOT before it grants approval to a development that such an application is in the works.

The DOT then has 45 days to "react," as Mr. Webb puts it. This might mean suggesting a modification of the development proposal, or it might mean that the DOT would decide to go ahead and purchase the applicable property. The DOT would have 120 days to begin purchase, according to Mr. Webb.

He says the filing of the Alignment Preservation Map is being made because development is so rapid in this area, and that without the maps and the notification process the DOT would have no idea of potential development in the proposed right-of-way.

However, the filing does not mean that construction of Route 92 is any closer to becoming a reality. When Commissioner Hazel Gluck announced the Department's preference for the northern alignment of Route 92 east of Route 1 last November, she also said that extensive wetlands and the existence of a federal superfund hazardous materials dump site would add "years" to the timetable for the Princeton Bypass portion of Route 92.

At the time, Commissioner Gluck said she was dividing the Route 92 project into three segments, giving highest priority to the Hightstown Bypass, but also advancing the middle section, between Route 1 and exit 8-A of the New Jersey Turnpike for the next stage of engineering.

According to Mr. Webb, it may be six years before the DOT completes the study of the wetlands and the Higgins Disposal site necessary to rewriting the applicable portions of its Environmental Impact

'89 Inaugural Journey Of George Washington Recreated on Saturday

Princeton will celebrate the 200th anniversary of George Washington's inaugural journey through Princeton early Saturday morning. Festivities are scheduled from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m. consecutively at Morven, Nassau Hall and Bainbridge House.

The celebration is part of two weeks of ceremonies marking Washington's journey from Mount Vernon, where he received word on April 14, 1789 that he had been elected the nation's first president, to New York City, where he was sworn in. He made the journey in eight days, covering the 250 miles in a horse-drawn carriage. Along the way townspeople turned out to honor the new president, greeting him with mounted escort, parades,

Settlement Proposed On Ettl Farm Suit; Site May Be for Sale

A settlement agreement to resolve litigation brought against the Township by Sanford Nalitt, owner of Ettl Farm, was unveiled at Township Committee last Monday night.

Mr. Nalitt filed the lawsuit in 1988 to protest the amount of financial contribution he would be required to pay in lieu of building affordable units on a portion of the Ettl Farm tract. The amount at the time was estimated to be in excess of $3 million.

The ordinance was subsequently revised to bring the amount of the contribution on all moderate-density affordable housing sites such as Ettl Farm more in line with the actual value of the land that was required as a Mt. Laurel set-aside. The ordinance says the developer must build Mt. Laurel units on that portion of the property, or contribute the equivalent in cash to the Township Housing Fund, and dinners, speeches and fetes of every description.

A series of events recreating this ride across New Jersey will be held in Trenton, Princeton, New Brunswick, Woodbridge, Rahway and Elizabeth. The events are sponsored by the Constitutional Bicentennial Commission of New Jersey and the local communities.

In Princeton, the carriage conveying the actor portraying Washington is scheduled to arrive at Morven at 7:30 a.m. accompanied by a costumed honor guard. The public is invited to greet Washington along with colonial-garbed "townspeople" and the mayors of Borough and Township. Complimentary refreshments will be served.

Washington and his entourage are scheduled to depart on foot for Nassau Hall at 8:10 a.m., accompanied by the public. The entourage will enter Nassau Hall and go into the Faculty Room where the original welcoming remarks of John Witherspoon, president of the College of New Jersey, and John Beatty, clerk of the village in 1789, will be read.

Washington will address the public with his historic speech, and a cancellation ceremony for the commemorative Washington Inaugural Bicentennial stamp will take place.

At 8:50, Washington and his entourage are scheduled to leave Nassau hall and walk to Bainbridge House. He will take a tour of the house, which is one of the few remaining buildings from the time of the inaugural visit. Bainbridge House was the birthplace of Commodore William Bainbridge, a hero of the War of 1812 and is now the headquarters of the Historical Society of Princeton.

Washington will depart from Princeton for New Brunswick at 9:20.

Other Activities. Morven was built by Richard Stockton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, around 1758. Washington visited Morven on numerous occasions and in 1783 was honored there by members of Congress for his service in the Revolutionary War at a dinner hosted by Richard's widow, Annis Boudinot Stockton.

Morven will be open for tours of the house and the landscape archaeology project from 10 to 1. Exhibits include "Archaeology in the Garden" and "Prints on the Life of George Washington," as well as ceramics and silk ribbons portraying images of patriotism. Tours will be conducted by volunteers from the Junior League of the Central Delaware Valley and others.

For information call 683-4495.

Bainbridge House will remain open until 4. Refreshments will be served, and mementos of George Washington's inauguration will be available to visitors. A special exhibition on the history of the building from 1766 to the present is on view, as well as 18th- and 19th-century period rooms.

For more information, call 921-6748.

The Public Library will have a display of books, pamphlets, photos, maps and memorabilia on the Washington inaugural journey. For information call 924-9529.

Communiversity Day coincides with the inaugural bicentennial events. Nassau and Witherspoon Streets will be closed to traffic from noon to 4. As part of the festivities, the Nassau Inn will sponsor a special Washington Bicentennial Booth, featuring food, videos, colonial demonstrations and souvenier items from Bainbridge House, the Thomas Clarke House, Morven and the Princeton Post Office.

Commemorative Envelope. The Princeton Post Office is offering a special commemorative envelope and cancellation in honor of the inaugural journey in 1789. The Post Office will be open until noon; thereafter commemorative cancellations may be obtained at the Washington Bicentennial Booth.

No special exhibit is planned in Nassau Hall, the original building of the College of New Jersey — as Princeton University was called for its first 100 years. But it's worth noting that Nassau Hall was the meeting place of the Continental Congress in 1783. Once the largest building in North America, Nassau Hall is now a National Historic Landmark.

Outdoor Swimming For YWCA Members

It is not too late to sign up for swim and tennis membership to Stony Brook facilities in Hopewell Township.

Offered as part of the YWCA's expanded summer activities, the facilities include three outside pools, tennis courts, poolhouse, playgrounds, picnic areas, and snack bar. The seven-acre wooded site is located off County Route 654 (formerly 518 spur) on Stony Brook Road, west of Hopewell.

Membership features swimming and tennis, beginning Memorial Day and ending Labor Day. Daily hours on Monday through Saturday are from 8 to 8 and on Sunday from 11 to 8. The rate for single membership is $200, with family membership set at $275 for two, $350 for three, and $425 for four or more family members.

Participants must also have current YWCA membership: $20 for adult, $10 for children, and $40 for families.

Swim instruction, water exercise, lap swims, birthday parties, and other aquatic programs will be available at a separate fee to Stony Brook members and nonmembers. A swim team is forming, free to Stony Brook members and available at a charge to nonmembers. Swim team members must have current YWCA membership.

For more information, call the Princeton YWCA at 497-2100 or visit the office on Paul Robeson Place.

In addition to the damaged front door, two potted pine shrubs on the front porch had been knocked over and their potting soil dumped on the porch. Also, a metal mail box had been pulled off its post in front of the house and the post knocked over.

None of the occupants were injured to the extent they required medical attention, Lt. Musso concluded.

A VISIBLE PROTEST: This shanty was built by Princeton University students to protest the University's investments in corporations doing business in South Africa. Of the 326 United States companies in which the University holds stock, 21 have direct involvement in South Africa. The shanty appeared in time for the University trustees' quarterly meeting Saturday.

TOPICS Of the Town

Many Issues Are Raised At First Calton Hearing

At a joint meeting of the Site Plan Review Advisory board and the Historic Preservation Committee last week, residents got their first chance to see the type of architecture Calton Homes plans for the Washington Oaks at Princeton development on the former White Farm. It was a session at which issues were raised relating to landscaping and street width.

Drawings of the proposed townhouses show federal-style wood and brick buildings with gabled roofs and dormer windows. The market-rate apartment buildings will look like two-story buildings from the front, but the two apartment buildings in which the 60 low- and moderate-income units will be located are clearly three-story buildings with a dropped hip roof to soften the effect on the side.

These "multiplex" apartment buildings will be 43 feet high, taller than current Township regulations and thus requiring a variance. But because they are located in a low area of the site, toward the Stony Brook, they will not be visible from Route 206, according to David Minnow, architect for the project.

Professional Planner Duggan Kimball pointed out that the arrangement of the multiplex buildings in the Calton site plan differs from the original concept plan and is the only part of the original plan to have been changed. He questioned why the market rate buildings, which are 38 feet high, are shown lower on the site, closer to Stony Brook, than the taller Mt. Laurel apartments.

Re-design. Mr. Minnow explained that it was not possible to get enough parking for the Mt. Laurel buildings and stay away from a patch of wetlands that intrudes into this area of the site. The loop road into this area was also re-designed to allow quicker access for emergency vehicles and a safer location for the proposed tot lot, he added. This in turn affected the open space, which was originally shown as a large common area between the two apartment types.

Mr. Kimball raised several other issues about the site plan before members of the two boards added their own comments. He noted that all the internal roads are shown on private easements, but current Planning Board policy is to require all roadways be public and be of Township standard width (24 feet) with a 40-foot right of way.

It is also Planning Board policy to require a sidewalk/bikepath on one side of the roads, Mr. Kimball remarked. Moreover, it is hoped that a path would be created linking the historic overlook area along Route 206 to a point on Princeton Pike which in turn could be connected to the Battlefield Park.

The White Farm is part of the Township-designated historic district which includes the Park and the original Quaker settlements along Stony Brook. The Park itself is on the National Register of Historic Sites, with an application pending for the inclusion of a part of the White Farm as well.

Dentention Basin Location. The fact that a detention basin is shown in the flood plain area which is to be dedicated to the Township was also of concern. Mr. Kimball and Township Engineer Robert V. Kiser each pointed out that the Township does not normally accept detention basins, preferring that responsibility for their maintenance rest in private hands

Much of the discussion last week centered on landscaping. Louise Schiller, a landscape architect and a new member of SPRAB, urged Calton officials to retain the 18th-century agricultural character of the tract and to avoid a "suburban" look. She spoke of "layering," "patterning" and using native plants in order to avoid "the white pine row" which is a typically used buffer planting.

Some questioned how much of an 18th-century agricultural look would be possible once 300 residential units were erected on the site. Nonetheless Calton attorney Thomas Hall and

Brian Moore, the landscape architect retained by Calton, each indicated a willingness to meet with a small group of SPRAB and Historical Preservation Committee members to work out the specifics

Another joint meeting of these two entities is scheduled for Thursday, May 4, at 8 in the Valley Road building meeting room. The two boards may issue a joint report or separate reports for the Planning Board's consideration when it begins deliberation on granting preliminary approval for the Calton Washington Oaks site plan on Wednesday, May 31.

According to Planning Board attorney Allen Porter, the reports are advisory but have some weight in that the board may not disregard them without giving reasons in the record. Although the joint SPRAB and Historic Preservation Committee meetings are public, they do not permit public comment. The Planning Board meeting May 31 will include a public hearing at which there will be an opportunity for public comment.

The Planning Board is also expected to act on the application that evening, because the 65 days from the time the application was deemed complete will be expiring. One of the terms of the settlement agreement which ended the litigation brought by Calton Homes against the Board and the Township was that the application approval process would be accelerated.

Borough Police on Stuart Murder: 'We Have Not Run Into a Dead End'

"It isn't because of a lack of effort that we haven't made any progress. We've been working on this very diligently since it occurred," commented Capt. Thomas Michaud this week, on the status of the police investigation of the murder this month of 74-year-old Emily Stuart at her 34 Mercer Street home.

"We have not run into a dead end," insisted Capt. Michaud. "We are continuing the investigation."

Still, he conceded, "this is going to be a tough case," because police have so little physical evidence. "We don't have a lot at this point."

The knife used to commit the murder has not been found. Police are still working on cross-checking fingerprints found in the house.

Police are still interviewing and re-interviewing family members, friends and neighbors, who have been very cooperative, Lt. Michaud said. "We are trying to understand the victim better — how she may have reacted."

Asked if the police had any theories, Capt. Michaud smiled and replied: "Hundreds of them. But they're just theories. It doesn't give us a good profile of the suspect."

Police, he acknowledged, have received a few calls about the crime. Some, he said, were prank calls; some were revenge calls, trying to get someone else in trouble. All have been checked out. None has proved to be valuable.

"We're trying to see if we can piece together the information we have," summed up Capt. Michaud. "There is a lot we are compiling." As for progress, it is difficult to say, Capt. Michaud concluded "It's too soon to tell if it fits together."

Corinne Kyle Is Elected School Board President

Princeton Regional School Board member Corinne Kyle has been elected Board president. She succeeds Marjorie Smith, who served from April, 1988, to April, 1989. This will be Ms. Kyle's second term as president.

Patty Soffronoff was elected vice president of the Board.

The new officers will serve through April, 1990.

Communiversity Set Saturday from 12 to 4

The 18th-annual celebration of Communiversity will take place Saturday from noon to 4 in the Central Business District and on the Princeton University campus. Rain date is Sunday.

This joint effort between town and area residents and students at the University will feature a wide variety of outdoor food, activities, performances, and special events.

Nassau Street from Chambers to Vandeventer will be closed from 11 a.m. to about 5 p.m. However, local traffic will be permitted to head to parking lots from both John and Tulane Streets.

In addition, Witherspoon Street, from Nassau to Spring, and the entire length of Palmer Square will be closed. Wiggins Street, between Vandeventer and Moore, will be reopened for the day.

Among the activities planned are an entanglement, bubble blowing, button making, visor decorating, face painting, and mask making.

A "fun run" for children will be sponsored again this year by Familyhorn. Participants should meet at 1:30 at the Nassau Green Gates. Other children's events include a giant twister game, as well as several on Cannon Green.

A number of performances are planned throughout the event. Among the groups scheduled to appear are the Road Runners Blues Band, Princeton University Band, Princeton University Mime Company, Princeton Ballet, Gilbert and Sullivan Society, African Dance, Countertones, Tigertones, Footnoters, and Teamwork Dance.

More than 200 organizations, artists, and food vendors are expected to participate. Communiversity is sponsored by the Arts Council of Princeton and the students of Princeton University to promote cultural awareness on both sides of Nassau Street.

Free parking will be provided in University lots. For more information, call the Arts Council at 924-8777.

Wadsworth Enters Race For Seat on Council

Borough merchant Ray Wadsworth has entered the race for Borough Council. His move sets the stage for a Democratic primary battle on June 6, as Democrats Jane Terpstra, Roger Martindell and Mr Wadsworth vie for two places on the November ballot.

Mr. Wadsworth's filing came, unexpectedly, a week after his return from a trip to France with the Princeton High School Choir.

"When I came back, I saw what was happening uptown," he said, "on Wiggins and Nassau, and a pipe down Mercer. You can't do 20 years of back work all at once."

Mr. Wadsworth, 55, added there was no reason to let Elizabethtown Water Company clean its mains [on Nassau and Mercer] at this time. "We could have waited another year."

He said he did not receive an answer from the Borough as to why these three projects were going on at the same time, and that this was a factor in his decision to run.

Mr. Wadsworth also returned to discover that Councilman John Huntoon had announced he would resign from Council on May 31, and that attorney Roger Martindell had been picked to run for Mr. Huntoon's seat in November.

Mayor and Council will select a person to fill Mr. Huntoon's seat after he resigns. The person will be picked from a list of three names provided by the Princeton Community Democratic Organization.

"I wanted to be one of the three," said Mr. Wadsworth. "But [Council President] Marvin Reed said it might not be done until after the primary, and that helped me decide to run."

Mr. Wadsworth's was one of three names submitted to Mayor and Council in late 1987, when Irv Urken left Council. Jane Terpstra, however, got the nod to replace Mr. Urken.

Mr. Wadsworth, a Spruce Street resident, is a longtime volunteer firefighter. Retired from Elizabethtown Water Company, he is the owner of The Flower Market and Wadsworth's Gourmet Bakery.

The two winning Democrats will face one Republican challenger in the November election. He is David Jackson, who ran for Council unsuccessfully last year.

Over in the Township, Republican Michael Tomalin has filed for Township Committee. The only Republican to enter the race, he will face Democratic incumbents Mayor Phyllis Marchand and Janet Mitchell in November.

Mr. Tomalin, a resident of Clover Lane, served for nine years on the Princeton Regional School Board. A vice president at Chemical Bank of New Jersey, he lost a Township Committee race to Leonard Godfrey last November.

representatives of various organizations to come and talk about their current and future plans, specifically as they relate to space requirements. Ms. Goettinger heads the Downtown Drop-in Center Taskforce of the Princeton Youth Concerns Committee. The taskforce was formed last April and met throughout last summer, fall and winter to formulate the specifics of what has long been felt as a priority need in Princeton — a centrally located drop-in center for Princeton youth.

Ms. Goettinger couched the need for a youth center in terms of prevention, specifically preventing drug use and alcohol abuse. She suggested the board weigh the cost for a center against rehabilitative costs, reminding them that "a year in prison costs more than a year in college."

She said the Youth Cafe works well as a drug- and alcohol-free environment but that teens don't use it as much as they might because the Valley Road building in which it is held is not centrally located. She spoke of a place that would be open six days a week with a professional recreation director and that would not have to share the space with some other organization.

Right now, the Valley Road gym is also used by athletic teams, and that was detrimental to the decorations on which Youth Cafe organizers had spent money and energy for the Friday night dances, Ms. Goettinger said. "We are determined that a downtown youth center be established somehow, and that it be a community effort because it will benefit the community."

Asked how much space her taskforce was contemplating, Ms. Goettinger said one large room, a kitchen, a game room, and a room for sitting and conversation. She pointed out that there are 865 students at Princeton High School and that this population will increase. The Youth Center would serve all private schools as well.

"We must find this location, and we will need a mandate from the community that this is necessary," Ms. Goettinger said. Asked what locations the taskforce is currently thinking about, she mentioned two: the

Don't Ask Which Streets Are Closed; It's Easier to Remember Which Are Open

"It would be easier to say which are open," quipped Borough Engineer Carl Peters when asked which streets in the Borough are closed to traffic.

The numbers of streets are many — for such a tight little Borough — and the work is varied. Some streets are getting new storm drains, others are being tended to by Elizabethtown Water Company, while still others will soon receive new curbs. Nassau Street — where parking, if not traffic, is being affected by the work under way — is in the midst of a major sidewalk restoration.

Wiggins Street, between Vandeventer and Moore, will continue to be closed for at least the next three weeks, while new storm drains and storm sewers are put in.

When this is completed, the work crews will move down Wiggins — between Vandeventer and Witherspoon — to continue the project there. The Wiggins/Hamilton restoration will eventually head the other way, and will finish at Harrison Street sometime in the fall.

Lafayette and Hunter Roads will be the site of more sanitary and storm sewer work for about the next three weeks. Hunter Road will be closed, as will Lilac Lane, at least while work crews are there. Traffic will continue to be restricted on Boudinot Street while work there is completed.

Elizabethtown's water pipe cleaning and lining continues on Springdale, Mercer and Nassau (to Chambers). Although these streets will not be closed, delays may be expected. Completion date for this project is May 30.

In the Township, work continues on The Great Road from Mountain to Stuart. Traffic may have to be restricted to one lane periodically.

On May 1, Elizabethtown is expected to begin work on The Great Road, from Ridgeview to Drake's Corner. This will restrict traffic to one lane. The work on Drake's Corner will proceed to the water tower, but the street will remain open to local traffic.

Chambers Street Firehouse and the warehouse behind the Athenian restaurant on Witherspoon Street.

Borough Council President Marvin Reed immediately responded that Borough Council intends the firehouse to be an income-producing property to amortize the cost of building a new firehouse. The Griggs Corner Amoco property was also mentioned, but Mr. Reed commented: "I suspect that to lease or buy that property would be more expensive than the Chambers Street Firehouse."

Robbery Caper Fizzles; Fleeing Car Hits Pole

Nothing went right for two robbers who entered and attempted to burglarize an Alexander Road home early Friday afternoon.

Both suspects were ultimately apprehended and charged by West Windsor police with burglary and theft, resisting arrest, and criminal mischief. One suspect who crashed into a nearby utility pole as he attempted to flee has been charged by Township police with eluding a police officer, and with several motor vehicle violations by West Windsor police. He was identified as Edwin M. Acevedo, 28, of Trenton. The second suspect, Carlos A. Guerra, 30, was apprehended around 8 p.m. that same evening in a Mercer Mall movie theater.

The incident began with a 1:45 call to police from an employee in a 600 Alexander Park office who reported that two men were breaking into a nearby home and carrying off stereo equipment and other items. One suspect, later identified as Acevedo, was seen getting into a Pontiac sedan parked in the 600 business parking lot. The car struck a parked car and then sped up Alexander Road toward Princeton. In front of the Forbes College dormitory, it struck and snapped a utility pole.

Despite an injured neck, Acevedo, managed to crawl from the wrecked car and run off. He was chased by a West Windsor patrolman in and around the Grover Lumber Company area and neighboring yards before he escaped into a wooded area bordering the Delaware and Raritan Canal.

A manhunt comprised of Borough and Township police, West Windsor police, Princeton University security, a state police helicopter and police dogs combed the area for the suspect.

Some three hours later, at 4:55, Acevedo was spotted again in woods near the West Drive housing apartments. He

Election Commission Approves Sigmund Report Even Though It Was Filed Nine Minutes Late

In a meeting Tuesday, the New Jersey Election Law Enforcement Commission (ELEC) decided to approve Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund's financial report for the gubernatorial primary — even though the report arrived nine minutes late.

"She had a viable explanation," said Frederick M. Herrmann, ELEC executive director. "I'm certain the commission did not want to be in a situation where it tells a candidate she can't run for Governor because she filed nine minutes late."

He pointed out that the lateness violated a ELEC regulation, not a State statute, and thus the commission had the flexibility to waive the nine minutes.

David Dixon, Mayor Sigmund's campaign manager, arrived with the campaign finance report and application for State money at 5:09 p.m. last Thursday, nine minutes past the deadline.

The report showed that Mrs. Sigmund had raised $160,771 for her campaign. She needed to raise $150,000 to become eligible for two-for-one State financing for the June 6 primary.

She will also now be able to participate in two televised debates next month with the two other candidates who have filed their candidacy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. United States Representative James Florio and State Assemblyman Alan Karcher. One debate will be sponsored by the League of Women Voters and the other by television stations WPVI in Philadelphia and WABC in New York.

was pursued by Township Ptl. John Buszko to the railroad tracks then onto a bridge across the canal where he jumped into the water. He was captured by Lt. Anthony Gaylord, Sgt. John Clausen and Ptl. Buszko of Township police and taken to Princeton Medical Center where he was examined after complaining of a pain in his neck.

Meanwhile, the same person who initially called police, called again to report that a second suspect he had observed was still in the house. West Windsor police and a canine unit searched the area without success. Later, acting on another piece of information they received, police went to the theater and arrested Guerra as he was leaving a rest room.

All of the property taken from the home was recovered, including a video camcorder and an electronic keybord left behind in the backyard, and a VCR and cameras piled inside the back door. Some cash and jewelry were recovered after the arrests.

Police declined to identify the home that was entered.

Intruder Gets Wallet In Holder Hall Theft

An intruder who entered an unlocked dorm room in Holder Hall on the University campus Saturday night escaped with the occupant's wallet containing $20 and credit cards.

Police report the victim had been away for about 20 minutes visiting a friend in a nearby dorm when she returned at 10:30 and saw a man standing in her room. "What are you doing?" she asked. The man said he was looking for someone and when the student told him the person was not there he quickly left.

The student then noticed that her purse on her desk was open and a check revealed that her leather wallet was missing. She described the suspect as a black male, about 30, 5-7, with a heavy build and a round face. He was wearing a leather jacket and felt cap.

A Lawrenceville resident left her purse unattended Sunday afternoon in the lounge area of Whig Hall on campus. When she went to retrieve it an hour and a half later, she noticed it was in a different location. A United Jersey Bank check book, $80 cash and credit cards had been removed from the purse.

Two jackets were stolen from clubs in two more campus thefts. A student's $285 leather aviator jacket was taken early Saturday morning from a second-floor rest room, and a red and blue parka valued at $100 was stolen about the same time from a coat room in the Charter Club. Inside a pocket was a sterling silver key chain valued at $50.

Still another student lost $40 when a thief rifled her wallet which she had left unattended in a knapsack in a second floor room of the Tower Club between 11:30 Thursday evening and 12:30 in the morning.

Four Hubcaps, $240. Four hubcaps worth $240 were removed from a Pontiac Sunbird while it was parked last week in a University lot near Prospect Avenue and Olden Street. The victim is a resident of Warminster, Pa.

An unlocked 1985 Dodge van was entered Saturday while it was parked in the YMCA lot between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Taken was the purse of the victim, a Township resident. It contained two wallets with $14 cash inside and other personal items worth an estimated $50.

In one of two bike thefts, a man's silver, 10-speed Fuji model, valued at $300, was taken last week from the front porch of a Vandeventer Avenue home where it had been left unlocked. A men's 27-inch Raleigh, valued at $175 and also unlocked, was taken early Monday morning from a rack outside 1939 Hall on campus.

Home Is Entered. A home on Cherry Valley Road was entered early last week by an intruder who kicked in a side door while the occupants were away. Kicking in the door

Planning Board, DKM Properties Clash Over Number of Lots in Development

A polite but intense tug-of-war developed between the Planning Board and Robert Powell, president of DKM Properties, last week. The occasion was the second session of the board's concept review of the DKM site plan for 46 single family lots on the former deMenil property off Pretty Brook Road

Instead of returning with fewer units as some had expected following the discussion the previous week, Mr. Powell told the Planning Board that if it did not see fit to recommend to the Zoning Board that it grant the necessary variances for the 46-lot subdivision, DKM would proceed with a 51-lot cluster proposal. He put up a drawing showing such a proposal which he said would be according to the cluster ordinance and would not require a variance; thus it would be heard by the Planning Board and not the Zoning Board of Adjustment.

After tracing the history of the site plan — how it was "massaged" by a committee over a two-year period in an attempt to reach Township goals for preservation of certain critical areas as well as DKM goals, Mr. Powell pointed out that 51 lots were permitted "as of right" under the cluster ordinance. But the lot sizes would be three-quarters of an acre instead of from one to almost three, he said — "not compatible" with the neighborhood.

"What we're doing is asking for a variance to reduce the open space so that we can increase the lot size. We're not pushing to go to the Zoning Board, but we are requesting your support for the approach we have taken for the use of the land."

Burden of Proof. "We know we have a heavy burden [to prove 'special reasons' for a variance to the Zoning Board]," Mr. Powell said. "We're not sure our approach to the Zoning Board can be sustained without the endorsement of the Planning Board. If after considering all the issues, you still think we have too many lots, then we have a problem: the plan has no support. If that's your position, we will proceed with the 51 lots, but frankly I think it is less desirable."

Margen Penick, chairman of the Planning Board, complimented Mr. Powell on his efforts to date and expressed appreciation for DKM's intention to donate three critical areas to the Township. They include an eight-acre tract adjacent to Woodfield Reservation, 10½ acres of a boulder field, and about 13 acres with two ponds.

Mr. Powell said he was willing to remove two of the 46 lots but that would still require a variance from the Zoning Board Mrs. Penick said she could support 40 lots, and added that in her experience the larger the lot the more money for the developer. Mr. Powell said that 40 lots would require a variance from the open space requirement and would result in fewer smaller lots.

At this point Duggan Kimball, professional planner, told the board it should not accept on face value that the 51-lot cluster Mr Powell was presenting conformed to the cluster ordinance. "In my view it is not a good plan and does not meet the standards in the ordinance, even the ordinance that was in effect in 1984 when the settlement agreement was reached," Mr. Kimball said.

For the Public Good. Marvin Reed termed Mr. Powell's ultimatum "a very unfortunate development" and reminded the board that both the Borough and the Township had voted to include the DKM property in an amended 208 Wastewater Treatment Plan last year because a public purpose would be served — namely the addition of land for park land. The DKM property was the only property without a Mt. Laurel component to be included in the amended plan.

Kate Litvack, who had served on the subcommittee that had "massaged" the site plan over the past two years, said that the committee had not quite succeeded in its objectives. "This plan almost made it," Mrs. Litvack said. "But it intrudes on waterway corridors and doesn't respect the concerns all of us expressed." She said if the 46 units could be moved around so that they don't intrude on waterway corridors it could receive the endorsement of the Planning Board.

This theme was echoed by Mrs. Penick. Mr. Powell, however, said that to gain 100 percent compliance there would have to be exceptions in some cases to what he referred to as "an arbitrary line" — the stream corridor boundary. Putting up a Planning Board working map with a blue line showing the corridor as it would be defined under the proposed Township ordinance, Mr. Kimhall said that some lots were so tight against the line as to leave too little buildable area, or area for normal use of the property without infringing on the stream corridor.

Township Engineer Robert V. Kiser raised the issue of a detention basin being sited on private property rather than on property owned (and maintained) by the homeowner's association. He also pointed out that the geometry of the proposed loop road does not meet Township standards.

Finally, as 11 p.m drew near, Pamela Morine proposed that the concept review be adjourned to the subcommittee "in the hopes of getting something that is 100 percent acceptable." On that note one of the Planning Board's more engrossing meetings from a spectator's point of view was adjourned.

Fire Breaks Out Friday In Snowden Lane Home

Princeton firemen responded to a 5:56 fire Friday morning in an historic home at 346 Snowden Lane.

A faulty electrical wire is being blamed as the cause of the blaze which firemen were able to contain to a kitchen and maid's quarters located in a new addition at the rear of the home. No one was injured, although one fireman fell through the roof of the addition.

Joseph Hewes, a signer of the Declaration of Independence was born in the home which is known as Mayberry Hill and is believed to have been built around 1725.

A caretaker has been living in the home, which sits back from the road.

Eight Cars Vandalized In Campus Parking Lot

Eight cars, owned by employees and students of Princeton University, were vandalized early Friday morning while they were parked in a lot near McCosh Infirmary. Six cars, police report, had their side view mirrors pulled off; windshield wipers and radio antennas were also broken.

Capt. Thomas Michaud said that an employee heard noises about 3 in the morning, went out to investigate and discovered the damage. He saw two suspects running from the area. Both were white males wearing dark jackets. One suspect had blonde hair, the other's hair was dark.

These was no estimate of the damage.

In the Township, a resident of Potter's Run heard some noises and voices at 2:25 Thursday morning, looked out and noticed a Volvo-type station wagon with a roof rack in front of her house. The car drove off.

In the morning, the owner checked and found that her mailbox, worth about $50, had been stolen from its post.

Cyclist Struck by Car; Driver Issued Summons

James J. Gibson, 66, 47 Castle Howard Court, was issued a summons for failing to yield last week, after he struck a cyclist at the intersection of Harrison Street and Sycamore Road.

Mr. Gibson told police that he had stopped at the stop sign and, seeing no vehicles, proceeded to turn left from Sycamore onto Harrison. His car struck a bicycle operated by Dexing Du, 46, 421A Butler Avenue, who was coming south on Harrison. Mr. Du refused treatment for contusions and abrasions.

Ptl. John J. Buszko issued the summons after he noted in his report of the 7:25 accident Thursday evening that his investigation revealed Mr. Gibson did not yield to all vehicles.

Four Drivers Fined In Township Court

Four Princeton area drivers were fined Monday night in Township court.

Fined $65 each were John F. Schneble, 43 Hamilton Lane South, Plainsboro, speeding; Lucy Nahoun, 7B Melborn Drive, Cranbury, stop sign; and John Burke, 31 Tarrytown Terrace, Belle Mead, $65 each for careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Janet M. Petrone, 16 Red Oak Road, paid $65 for a stop sign violation and $25 each on two charges of not wearing seat belts.

Meeting on Peer Groups Draws Students, Adults

A Monday night meeting of the School Board's Program Committee — called to discuss the decade-old peer group/peer leadership program at Princeton High School — drew some 20 students and at least a dozen adults to the conference room at the Valley Road building. Every member of the School Board was also present.

The examination of peer group is being made by the Program Committee as part of its ongoing evaluation of all curricula in the schools.

The peer group program has stirred controversy since its inception. It also, however, has many partisans. Princeton High School initiated the first such program in Mercer County ten years ago. Today, every school in the County has a similar program, several modeled after the high school's.

The purpose of peer group, which is mandatory for all ninth graders, is to ease the transition into high school. Students, along with their leaders, all seniors, examine such issues as their roles as adolescents, peer pressure, relationships, and decisions regarding drug and alcohol use. Discussion topics are intermingled with cooperative games and tasks.

A seven-page letter from William A. Rohrer, 76 Stetson Way, called peer group "a values clarification program" and said such programs have been shown in studies to have failed. "Those who object to the values clarification approach do so on the basis that it is a way of introducing values' relativity while at the same time undermining traditional values and undoing the attempts of parents and churches/synagogues to form character," Mr. Rohrer wrote.

———

"In values clarification classes," wrote Mr. Rohrer, "choice" is elevated to the status of a virtue.... When facing a real-life moral question, such as the abortion issue, values-clarification-trained young people tend to have developed an almost automatic preference for one side over the

Recycling Shed to Remain Open

The Township Engineer has announced that the recycling shed at the Princeton Shopping Center will remain open after Mercer County implements curbside collection of recyclables later this year.

Under an agreement reached between the administrative staff of the Mercer County Improvement Authority and the Township, the shed will continue in full operation. Residents will be able to choose whether they want to place their recyclable items at the curb for twice-a-month pick-up or drop them off at the recycling shed between 9 and 5 Monday through Saturday, 2 to 5 Sunday.

Robert V. Kiser, Township Engineer, has also announced that the recyling shed will begin accepting corrugated shipping material effective immediately. The material should be clean and dry and boxes should be broken down, flattened and tied in manageable bundles. Noncorrugated cardboard material will not be accepted.

The recycling shed also accepts newspaper, glass and aluminum cans.

Effective immediately, used motor oil and old tires will be accepted at the Township Public Works Garage, located at the intersection of Valley Road and Witherspoon Street. These items may be dropped off between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. and should not be left when the garage is unattended.

Motor oil should be left in sealed clean disposable containers. Tires must be off the rim and will be accepted only from Princeton residents. A limit of two tires per resident will be imposed.

other — the side that favors 'choice' and denies absolutes.

"Some ... parents believe that truth (values) are both objective and unchanging and that they come to us through divine revelation rather than self-revelation."

Board member Ann McGoldrick introduced a series of questions about the program. "These are sometimes controversial," she said, "but they have to be raised."

Among these were whether it was enough to have people discuss values or directions in such areas as drug and alcohol use; whether smoking was addressed; and whether peer group leaders are sufficiently trained to discuss such second-semester subjects as AIDS, cults, and suicide. (Students have the option to sign up for additional semesters after the mandatory first one. According to Ralph Heyman, the program's leader, 230 students signed up this year.)

"How much pressure is there to pass and conform?" asked Mrs. McGoldrick. "Should peer group always be required if a discussion of some issues does not fit family appropriateness?"

Board member Eva Collins wondered whether there was forced intimacy within groups, and whether students were doing counseling. "If so, what credentials do they have? How much revelation is there? Is that healthy? Is there proper supervision?"

Marc Glogoff, a peer group leader in the audience, said he had researched the subject of AIDS for two weeks before tackling it in a second-semester peer group. "I wouldn't say I was an expert, but I knew the facts. We discussed abstinence and also forms of prevention."

"We don't jump right in on suicide," said Wendy Goodman, another leader. "We start with, 'how was your first day at the high school?' "

"We are very structured, especially in the first semester," said a third leader. "We are looked at very closely."

Allison Rohrer, a student who said she was a newcomer as a junior, voiced concern about the kind of example peer group leaders are setting in their own lives. "I would be very cautious about what kind of values many kids pick up."

"Leaders sign an agreement not to drink or use drugs," responded Mr. Glogoff. He acknowledged, however, that this was not always followed outside the school.

Dr. Cooper said that there are a lot of rumors swirling about the peer group program. Earlier in the meeting, there was an allusion to letters received by Board members regarding the weekend activities of peer group leaders.

"People call and stop me on the street," said Dr. Cooper. "Quite a number have indicated that there is great pressure for intimacy. This is a troubling event, if it is occurring."

The next step in the evaluation process will be for Assistant Superintendent Don Maiocco, Mr. Heyman, and High School Principal John Sakala to organize the questions and issues raised during the meeting into answerable issues, said Dr. Cooper. Then Mr. Heyman and faculty members involved in peer group will prepare a response to these.

This will be followed by another meeting of the Program Committee. Dr. Cooper said he hopes the process will not continue beyond early fall.

Caller Reports Gun

A fully-loaded, 22. caliber revolver was recovered last week by Township police who were directed to it by an anonymous female caller.

Lt. Mario Musso said that police found the hand gun near a bush in the Princeton Community Village area — exactly where the caller said it would be. Police, he said, are in the process of trying to trace the origin of the weapon. There are no suspects. "All we have is the gun," Lt. Musso commented.

Annual Computerfest Set at Trenton State

Trenton State College will host the 14th annual computer festival on Saturday and Sunday. The event's features will include a five-acre outdoor flea market, free classes, software demonstrations, conferences on computer-related topics, and a computer graphics theater.

The keynote address will be given by William Gates III, Microsoft Corporation cofounder, chairman and CEO. His topic will be "The Future of Computing" and he will speak at 3:30 p.m. in Packer Hall Gymnasium.

The festival will run from 9 to 6 Saturday and from 10 to 4 Sunday. General admission is $7 for both days and all events. Admission for students and senior citizens is $3. Preschool children will be admitted free.

Sunday-only admission is $5 for the general public and $3 for students and seniors. Children under 12 accompanied by an adult will be admitted free on Sunday.

Adult School to Celebrate Its Fiftieth Anniversary

The Princeton Adult School, founded 50 years ago this spring, will mark its golden anniversary with a reception at Conant Hall of the Educational Testing Service on Sunday, April 30, from 3 to 5 p.m.

Through research of past records — spotty for early years — a list of more than 1600 names of people who served as volunteer board members, teachers, guest lecturers and staff has been compiled. All those who could be located have received formal invitations to join in the celebration.

Mary Jane Fleming heads a committee planning the event that includes past board presidents Jacqueline Johnson, Dorothy G. Thomas, Margaret Sprout, and Edward O. Johnson.

Also serving on the committee are current board members Anne Shepherd, Hannah Kahn, Jean Mahoney, and current president John A. Winterbottom and administrative secretary Martha Hannon.

Eleven courses were offered when the Adult School was launched in 1939. The president of Princeton University, Harold W. Dodds, was among the small founding group leaders. Today 70 to 75 courses are announced for each of the spring and fall terms, and average enrollment is 1300 per session.

More than 80,000 people have signed up for classes over the half century of the school's existence. The Tuesday and Thursday evening classes are held at Princeton High School, and are open to adult residents of Princeton and all neighboring communities. Modest fees cover costs of operating the nonprofit school.

The Princeton Adult School is uniquely privileged to have the frequent participation of faculty members of Princeton and Rutgers universities and the Institute for Advanced Study as lecturers. An extensive language program attracts about 20 percent of total enrollment for instruction in a wide variety of foreign languages, as well as English for speakers of other languages.

Walk-a-thon Planned To Benefit Senior Center

The Recreation Department and the Senior Resource Center will sponsor the first annual PAS-a-thon.

Proceeds will benefit services and help to underwrite future health awareness programs provided to area seniors by the center. The event is called PAS-a-thon to highlight one of the ongoing programs — PASERS (Princeton Area Seniors Exercising Regularly) — which was initiated two years ago to help raise health awareness in older adults.

People of all ages may enter the three-mile walk from the Princeton Shopping Center to Quarry Park on Saturday, April 29. Registration starts at 9:30 a.m. The rain date is May 6 at 1:30 p.m. Each walker is asked to get sponsors to pledge a $1 a mile or more.

Anyone can be a sponsor — friends, relatives, secretaries, neighbors. The top three donation-getters will win prizes. Transportation will be provided for any who cannot complete the whole walk.

Corporate sponsors, PSE&G, The Trust Company of Princeton, Squibb Corporation, and Pizza Star have donated prizes and free give-aways. Church & Dwight Company, Inc. will match the total number of miles walked.

Forty students at John Witherspoon School have challenged Princeton seniors to enter 40 walkers in the PAS-a-thon.

Registration forms and sponsor sheets are at the Suzanne Patterson Center, Borough and Township halls, the Public Library, the Trust Company of Princeton, the Senior Resource

Parents' Group Alarmed By Treatment of Students

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The following statement was read by Michael Washington, 50 Dogwood Hill, at the April 11 Princeton Regional School Board Meeting

A group of concerned parents have been grieving over the past two weeks. We have entrusted our children to the Princeton Regional School System and the system has not met our expectations. We are particularly concerned with the number of minority students currently enrolled in remedial programs (especially the disproportionate number of black male children), the classification of minority children, and low expectations of minority students by teachers from the time they enter kindergarten. There are very few, if any, black students graduating from Princeton High School in the accelerated track.

More than once it has come to our attention that our children's academic needs have not and are not being adequately addressed to our satisfaction by the school system. It seems that little, if any, attention has been devoted to this tragedy. We know that at least three reports on minority education in the Princeton system have been done over the last 20 years and, to date, no positive results have been forthcoming.

The latest incident occurred at Community Park School on March 20, where a 7-year-old second-grader was physically assaulted and was the victim of a barrage of profane language. This is one more indication that the system is not working for us or our children. There are other ways to discipline children in a school setting without resorting to violence. Violence does not solve the problem; if anything, it increases the conflict.

We feel that a teacher's job is to help and encourage our children to grow. We expect teachers to provide a creative, nurturing, academic environment that, among other things, fosters the development of positive self-esteem and helps children learn ways of resolving conflict. Many teachers in the system meet this criteria, but there are many who do not.

We have a lot of unanswered questions regarding the incident. Why did the teacher not call the principal's office for assistance? Why did the teacher leave the classroom unattended for some period of time? Just to name a few.

We feel very strongly that the child has been victimized. We are very concerned that the child does not feel that he is to blame for the teacher's behavior and the subsequent action taken by the administration. A teacher is an "adult" and thus responsible for his or her actions.

Our recommendations are:

• the teacher in the abovementioned incident seeks professional help, i.e. counselling;

———

• the Board and Administration should develop and implement policies and procedures for teachers on handling conflict in the classroom;

• a puhlic apology should be given by the teacher involved, not only to the child and his family, but also to the community at large;

• the other children in the class should he given a chance to ventilate their impressions of the incident in order to prevent emotional scars and to clarify any rumors that may be circulating ... the assault of a classmate hy a teacher is scary for children;

• an outside committee should he formed to study violence in the school system because it is our understanding that, aside from this incident, at least four other incidents have occurred at Community Park and at least two at John Witherspoon School.

Finally, we wish to reiterate our feeling that this is an important issue for the entire Princeton community. Children are a gift entrusted to us ... every child is our responsibility.

More Volunteers Needed For 'Trash Troop' Day

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Princeton's environment has deteriorated significantly over the past few years. Nearly every street, park, schoolyard and byway in Princeton Borough and Township is defiled by litter: bottles, aluminum cans, paper cups, fast food containers, flyers and newspapers strewn with no regard for our historic town.

The most heavily littered areas are on the very roads which give visitors their first visual impression of our town: namely, Stockton Street, Rosedale Road, Cherry Valley Road, Province Line Road, The Great Road, Route 206 north, and the Alexander Street - University Place - McCarter Theatre - Dinky Station area

A group known as the "Trash Troop" was organized in 1987 by the late Ann Townsend. This troop attempted to deal with the litter problem in 1987 and 1988 but its valiant effort did not receive the attention that it merited and the problem has exacerbated since then. At the time of her untimely death, Ann was engaged in organizing an all-out attack on the problem of litter in our town.

As a tribute to Ann's commitment to improving the quality of Princeton's environment, a town-wide campaign will officially begin on Saturday with a kick-off booth on Communiversity Day. We will be enlisting volunteers to sign up for litter collection on a section of a main road or street which has not already been spoken for by dedicated volunteers. We encourage working in groups of three, and recycling — i.e., one bag for bottles, one for aluminum, and one for general litter — and working against the traffic as a safety precaution.

All citizens helping to clean Princeton of litter should bring the bagged litter to Community Park North, or if recycling, to the Princeton Shopping Center Recycling Center for disposal. Save the most exotic piece of litter that you have found and bring it to a 4 p.m. reception on Sunday, April 30, at Mountain Lakes House, Mountain Lakes Nature Preserve, when we will hear the results of our town-wide efforts, view some of the most unusual items, and engender enthusiasm for keeping Princeton litter-free on a year around basis.

You can help by signing up to work with us at our Communiversity booth, calling us for a particular assignment or by simply spreading the work among friends and neighbors to remove every little piece of litter from their neighborhood. Princeton should be a visually prettier town as of May1, 1989. If we can keep it that way we would not only receive the aesthetic benefits but we would be obeying existing local laws.

Bins Are Requested For Recycling of Plastic

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is a copy of a letter sent to Robert Kiser, the Township engineer:

The League of Women Voters of the Princeton Area would like to ask the Township to install bins at the Shopping Center's recycling shed for the collection of plastic soft drink containers as well as for milk, juice and water containers.

It is our understanding that this proposal is being considered; we add our support to this effort. Although Mercer County is planning the curbside collection of recyclable materials — including plastics — some time later this year, it is still important to remove from our trash collection, as soon as possible, as much as we can of nonbiodegradable plastic. We hope you will give this request your prompt consideration.

Spruce Circle Residents Say 'Thanks for Flowers'

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We would like to thank the Adopt-a-Neighbor Program sponsored by Landau's and the Princeton Senior Resource Center for sending us the beautiful flowers for Easter.

God blesses us with many things with all the gifts his caring brings ...
With marigolds and daffodils, with crystal brooks and rolling hills
God blesses us with sunny skies, with rainbows and with butterflies.
And then with extra love he sends the priceless gift of special friends
May God continue to bless you as you go about bringing Happiness to others.

Gift of Street Trees A Lasting Memorial

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On behalf of the anonymous donor who honors the memory of Dr. John Wallace of Princeton with the generous gift of 10 street trees for the Borough roadways, we would like to extend our heartfelt appreciation.

The gift of a tree is one that will be recognized for decades. Along with beautifying our community, trees also benefit the environment by regenerating life-giving oxygen. This is a most appropriate memorial to one so admired for his public spirit.

Princeton Prof. Tapped To Head Humanities Ctr.

W. Robert Connor, professor of classics and chairman of the Council of the Humanities at Princeton University, has been elected president and director of the National Humanities Center in Research Triangle Park near Durham, N.C.

As chairman of the Council of the Humanities at Princeton since 1982, Mr. Connor has played an active role in bringing distinguished scholars and visitors to the University, developing new programs and course offerings in the humanities, strengthening the creative arts at Princeton, and securing support for new positions in the humanities.

A widely recognized scholar of classics and ancient history, he served as president of the American Philological Association, 1987-88, and has been a member of the executive committee of the American School of Classical Studies in Athens. His books include Theopompus and Fifth-Century Athens (1968), the New Politicians of Fifth-Century Athens (1971), and Thucydides (1984). He has also edited Greek Orations (1966; reprinted 1987), and has published numerous articles and essays.

He has been twice a Fulbright Fellow — at University College, Oxford and at the University of Melbourne — and has held residential fellowships at the American School of Classical Studies in Athens and at the Center for Hellenic Studies in Washington. He has also been awarded research fellowships by the American Council of Learned Societies and by the National Endowment for the Humanities. In 1986, he received the Howard Behrman Award for Distinguished Achievement in the Humanities.

The National Humanities Center is a privately incorporated institute for advanced study in history, philosophy, languages and literature, and other fields of the liberal arts. Established in 1978, the Center offers 40 residential fellowships each year. Leading scholars from more than 100 American colleges and universities, and also from 20 nations other than the United States, have been Fellows of the Center, and their research has led to the publication of nearly 300 books.

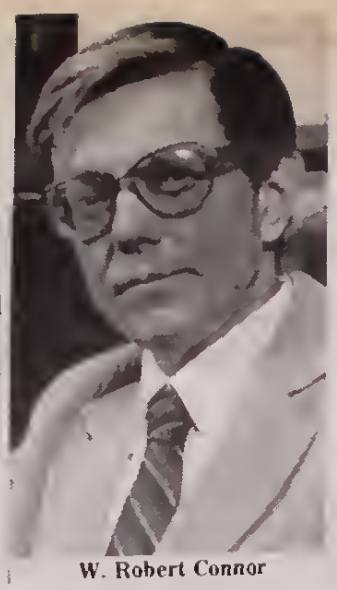
Run-a-Thon to Benefit Children with AIDS

The annual Chapin School Run-a-thon will be held Saturday, April 29, rain or shine. The proceeds will be divided between the pediatric AIDS unit of the Robert Wood Johnson Medical Center in New Brunswick, and the eighth-grade yearbook fund.



W. Robert Connor

Dr. Lawrence D. Frenkel, professor of pediatrics and microbiology at the Hospital and father of Lory, grade 7 and Jason, grade 4, recently talked to the students about his work with his patients and discussed various ways the money raised will help the children. The Run-a-thon Committee includes faculty representatives and eighth-grade students who decided on the recipient of the money raised through sponsorship, set up the course for the runners and walkers on the school grounds, and planned the activities for the day.

Prizes will be awarded to the student who secures the most sponsors, the student who raises the most money, the girl who runs the most miles, and the boy who runs the most miles. Every participant will receive a Chapin Run-a-thon T-shirt and the day will end with a special dinner planned by parents and faculty.

Abortion Rights Forum Scheduled for April 26

An informational forum which will explore the historical perspective of abortion in the United States and the ramifications of the present climate on the future of abortion rights will be held at 7:30 Wednesday, April 26, at the Woodrow Wilson School Auditorium, Princeton University.

The timing of this program coincides with the date the United States Supreme Court will begin hearing arguments in Webster vs. Reproductive Health Services. The outcome of this case may dertermine the future of women's right to safe and legal abortion.

The panel will include Vivian Shapiro, researcher in community health, Mount Sinai Medical School; Dr. Michael Burnhill, professor of clinical obstetrics and gynecology, Robert Wood Johnson Medical School; Ann Levine, executive director, New Jersey Family Planning Advocates; Joan Wallack Scott, historian, Institute for Advanced Study; and Lorraine Stanley, chief staff attorney, New Jersey American Civil Liberties Union.

The event is open to the public and is free. It is sponsored by Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer Area and Mercer County chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union.

For further information, call Planned Parenthood at 599-4411 or the ACLU at 599-4440.

Environmental Education Focus of Coming Week

The Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association has planned several activities to mark Environmental Education Week, April 22 to 29.

To spread the message, "Helping to Support What Supports Us," the Watershed Association is distributing instructional kits to teachers and leaders of children in grades K through 12. The kits provide information and activities about how the lifestyles of New Jerseyans impact the State's natural resources.

The Watershed Association has also scheduled the grand opening of its Buttinger Environmental Awareness Center for Saturday, April 29. The event begins at noon and includes maypole dancing, nature walks, games and other activities.

The Association is also selling raffle tickets for a hot air balloon flight to lift off from the Watershed Reserve just before sunset April 29. Tickets are $2 each or six for $10. Proceeds will benefit the Watershed Association.

Soviet Delegation Due From Volgograd Region

A delegation of 15 visitors from the Volgograd region of the Soviet Union will arrive in New Jersey on May 8 to initiate the New Jersey-Volgograd Bridges for Peace citizen exchange.

A Statewide conference will be held Saturday, May 13 from 1 to 8:30 at Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church. The conference, "Building Bridges for Peace: A U.S. — U.S.S.R. Dialogue," will provide an opportunity for Americans and Soviets to explore common ground, as well as differences, on topics as environmental concerns, peace education and women's issues.

The cost for the conference is $10 with an additional $6.50 for dinner.

New Jersey is one of the first states to be linked with a Soviet region in an ongoing process of citizen exchanges. Other "state bridges" being formed are Vermont and New Hampshire with Estonia, Massachusetts with the Ukraine, Maine with Karelia and North Carolina with the Georgian Republic.

U.S. — U.S.S.R. Bridges for Peace, the national sponsor of these state bridges, is a coalition of more than 50 educational, civic, peace and church groups working to build understanding between people of the U.S. and U.S.S.R. through citizen diplomacy.

The Soviet-American Relations Committee of the Princeton-based Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament is one of many groups throughout New Jersey participating in this linking process of nurturing person-to-person exchanges.

Friendship Album. The committee is assembling two friendship albums in which individuals and groups may purchase space to send a personalized message to the citizens of Volgograd. The Peace Album is open to individuals and groups; the other, the Young Peoples' Friendship Album, will be for people under the age of 18.

The space in these albums may be used to send a brief written message, a poem, a photograph, a drawing or other artwork — anything that will express the spirit of peace and will lie flat on the page. Prices for space range from $5 to $35.

The money raised from this project will help support the May visit of the Volgograd citizens and the participation of two people from the area in a visit to the Volgograd region of the Soviet Union in September.

All materials must be submitted to the Coalition office at 40 Witherspoon Street, Princeton, with a check for the appropriate amount by May 1. The committee will have all written content translated into Russian and will assemble the materials into the album.

For further information, call the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament at 924-5022 during business hours or 520-1484 evenings and weekends.

High School Dance Friday

The Youth Cafe will sponsor a dance at the YM-YWCA this Friday from 8:30 to midnight. it will feature the band, "95 South," which played to a capacity crowd in February. The dance is open to all high school students of Princeton High School, Princeton Day School, Stuart, Hun and the guests. This event is a fund raiser for a downtown center for high school students. Admission at the door is $3.

The all-city middle school dance, which took place this past Friday, raised $250 towards the same goal.

speaks on Helping Yourself With A "Functional" Table.

Furniture manufacturers are placing increased emphasis on "functional" tables — that is, tables that can do more then one job, and that can be a tremendous help to you.

For example, you can get a table that also gives you some storage, such as e table with drewers or shelves. Thus, you not only heve the table surface you need, but some added storage help, too.

Another type of functional table you might want to consider is one that serves as both a table and e desk.

Another idea to think about is e piece of furniture you can use for both e regular table end e serving erea. Such a table could be used to hold flowers, books, etc., at non-serving times, and then be used for e place to serve food from when that time comes.

Actually, EVERY teble you shop for can be used in two ways. One is the job, or extre jobs, they'll perform (whether they'll hold lamps or refreshments or accessories or whatever); and the other consideration of all tables — whether you use them for more than one thing or not — are the good looks they can add to your home. With all the different sizes and designs of tables today you can find ones that will give you both convenience AND beauty. We invite you to see our table selection.

Director Is Promoted By Guidance Center

Vincent Haba Jr., who since 1986 has been director of the Community Guidance Center of Mercer County's Plainsboro Center, has been promoted to assume also the directorship of the mental health agency's Princeton facility at 253 Nassau Street, known as the Whitney Center.

Mr. Haba joined the organization in 1984 as a psychiatric social worker after receiving his master's degree from Rutgers Graduate School in Social Work. While at Rutgers, he was affiliated with the Dean of Students' Office as a residence couselor, supervising a staff of six in counseling, discipline, programming, and crisis intervention.

Previously he was a supervisor and program evaluation specialist with the Middlesex County Comprehensive Employment and Training Administration and counselor/coordinator of the Horizon Program of the South Amboy Memorial Hospital's Community Mental Health Clinic. He is a past-president of AFSCME, Local No. 3052.

Married to a psychologist, Mr. Haba lives in Kendall Park.

Peace Runners Are Due En Route to the South

Sri-Chinmoy Oneness-Home Peace Run '89, an Olympic-style relay run, will pass through Princeton Friday evening on its way from Brooklyn to Baltimore.

The group expects to pass through all 50 states this summer as part of a 31,000-mile odyssey across six continents. During the 15-week journey, which includes 11,000 miles in the United States, more than 100,000 runners will pass a peace torch from hand to hand during the run.

The organizers invite people of all ages to carry the peace torch for any distance — a few feet, a few blocks or a few miles. The run, which begins Friday in New York, is organized by the Sri Chinmoy Marathon Team, an international running organization that sponsors some 500 races a year and seeks to promote world peace through athletics.

Health Information from the Princeton Regional Health Department

Lyme Disease

As the weather warms and more time is spent outdoors, Lyme disease once again becomes the focus of our attention as the risk of its occurrence increases

Lyme disease is a potentially serious illness caused by the bite of the tiny deer tick found in woods, marshy and shrubby areas. Lyme disease is caused by a spirochete (spy-ro-keet), a type of bacterium that is transmitted when an infected tick takes blood. Seventy-five percent of cases occur between May and August, although the disease has been diagnosed during every month of the year.

Lyme disease was first identified in 1975 in the town of Lyme, Connecticut. At that time, a group of mothers noticed that several children from the same neighborhood had come down with symptoms of what was being diagnosed as Juvenile Rheumatoid Arthritis. Since Juvenile Rheumatoid Arthritis is not contagious the mothers became suspicious and pursued further medical investigation. After subsequent analysis, the disease was named after the first place that it was systematically identified; thus, Lyme Disese received its name.

Since 1975, cases of Lyme Disease have been reported in 33 states. Ninety percent of all cases have occurred in New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Wisconsin and Minnesota. The first cluster of Lyme Disease in New Jersey was documented in Monmouth County in 1978. The disease is currently most prevalent in Monmouth, Ocean, Mercer and Burlington Counties

The characteristic symptom of Lyme disease is a red "target-shaped" rash, or lesion, with a central clearing that expands and is hot to the touch. Some individuals will develop additional lesions at places other than the bite site (although you may not remember having been bitten there by a tick). The rash will gradually disappear on its own, although the disease is still present. It is important to seek immediate medical attention at this time, especially if the rash appeared after exposure to a wooded or shrubby area. The rash may be accompanied by other symptoms: a flu-like illness (low-grade fever, chills, muscle aches); meningitis-like symptoms (headache and stiff neck); and fatigue.

If Lyme disease is diagnosed in its early stage and treated with antibiotics, its more serious complications can be prevented. When not promptly treated, arthritis, heart and/or nervous system disorders may develop Lyme disease is treatable at any stage: however, the earlier it is diagnosed, the easier it is to treat.

Since Lyme disease may be difficult to detect, Patrick Hanson, Health Officer for the Princeton Regional Health Commission, suggests the following precautionary measures:

- Do full body checks for ticks on yourself, family members and pets that have spent time outdoors.
- Remove ticks properly with tweezers by grasping the tick as close to the skin surface as possible Pull upward with a steady, even pressure.
- Tuck pants legs into socks and shirt into pants.
- Wear light colored clothing — it makes it easier to spot ticks
- Use insect repellents on skin and clothing.
- Become familiar with the symptoms of Lyme disease.

As Lyme Disease occurs mainly in rural and suburban areas; gardens, parks, and trails in and around Princeton are all potential "hot spots" for the deer tick and transmission of the spirochete bacterium. Since the deer tick is so small (at its largest, the tick is the size of a small sesame seed), Mr. Hanson encourages local residents to be especially attuned to the disease this spring and summer. Lyme Disease is a serious illness, but taking the proper precautions, being aware of signs and symptoms, and seeking prompt medical treatment are effective ways of controlling it. You can protect yourself from Lyme Disease and it can be effectively treated.

For more information on preventing Lyme Disease, please call the Princeton Regional Health Commission at 497-7608.

— the Livingstons and the Delafields — using a variety of manuscripts, engravings, photographs, printed works, and ephemera from two recently donated collections: the Edward Livingston Papers and the Delafield Family Papers.

The figure most prominently illustrated, Edward Livingston (1764-1836), lawyer, statesman, diplomat, and a progressive legal theorist, is perhaps best known for his advocacy of the abolition of capital punishment and his plans for a humane penitentiary system. During his varied career, this Princeton graduate (Class of 1781) held positions as representative to Congress from two states (New York and Louisiana), mayor of New York City, United States district attorney for New York, senator from Louisiana, secretary of state, and minister to France. He also served as an aide-de-camp to Andrew Jackson at the Battle of New Orleans.

Letters by Victor Hugo and Lafayette, original sketches by Robert Fulton, and Edward Livingston's 1781 diploma from the College of New Jersey, will be among the items on display. The exhibition will also include objects on loan from Clermont State Historic Site and Montgomery Place (the ancestral summer home of many members of the family).

The show will run throughout the summer, and close September 17. The main gallery is on the first floor of Firestone Library. Admission is free. Viewing hours are Monday through Friday from 9 to 5 and Saturday and Sunday from noon to 5.

Deconstruction Is Topic Of Two-Day Conference

The achievements and limitations of deconstruction as an important historical movement and its future possibilities will be examined at a two-day conference at Rutgers and Princeton universities.

Deconstruction is a critical method and philosophical theory based on the notion that language is always arbitrary and imprecise. Words only represent other words and have no pure meaning outside of language, which is a human construction.

The conference, "Deconstruction Reviewed," will take place Friday and Saturday. Sponsors are the Center for the Critical Analysis of Contemporary Culture at Rutgers and the Theory of Literature and History Group at Princeton.

Friday's colloquia will be held on the College Avenue campus of Rutgers. All of Saturday's events will be held in Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School, bowl 2.

A $2 registration fee is required. For more information, call the Center for the Critical Analysis of Contemporary Culture at (201) 932-8426.

Woodland Hike Set This Friday Evening

The Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association will offer a woodland lantern hike on its 585-acre nature reserve in Hopewell Township on Friday evening. The hike will start at 8 and end by 10:30.

Participants will walk trails along the Stony Brook looking for nocturnal animals such as owls, frogs, and flying squirrels. The program is for adults only and will begin at the Buttinger Center on Titus Mill Road.

Space is limited and registration is required. The fee is $5 for members, $10 for nonmembers. To register or for more information call the Watershed Association's education office at 737-7592.

Library Registration

Volunteers from the Friends of Princeton Public Library will be available to re-register Borough and Township residents on Mondays and Saturdays through May 27.

New cards will be needed when the automated system is ready for use. Until then, present library cards will be honored for all residents. Nonresident cards should be renewed at the circulation desk at expiration date.

Identification needed at the time of registration includes a current driver's license, or a Medicare card, or a major credit card, or a photo ID from a school or employer, or a passport. Children accompanied by a parent will also be registered by the Friends volunteers on Mondays or Saturdays. There will be further registration of children during the summer.

FLAVORS OF ITALY: Chairman Nancy Hofmann, left, and committee members Leighton Laughlin and Llura Gund discuss plans for "Flavors of Italy," a culinary benefit for the RP Foundation Fighting Blindness. The special gourmet Italian dinner will take place the evening of May 2 at a newly created Trattoria on Pier 90 in New York.

"Flavors of Italy" Dinner To Benefit RP Foundation

On Tuesday evening, May 2, Milanfair Overseas Exhibitions will sponsor an authentic Italian gourmet dinner for 200 people at Pier 90 Passenger Ship Terminal (overlooking the Hudson River at 55th Street) in New York. Proceeds from the event will benefit the New Jersey chapter of the RP Foondation Fighting Blindness.

The affair will be held in conjunction with the first Flavors of Italy Show and Exhibition in the United States. Producers of the show are constructing an intimate trattoria at the end of Pier 90 for the evening. Under the supervision of New York restaurateur Tony May, well-known chefs from Italy will create a meal representing the nine regions of Italy, from aperitifs to desserts.

"The RP Foundation was delighted to have been chosen as beneficiary of the dinner, especially because of the magnitude of the disease in Italy," said Llura Gund, president of the New Jersey Chapter. "'RP Italia' is a counterpart foundation, based in Milan, which also conducts research on retinitis pigmentosa and serves a similar patient population."

In addition to the dinner, there will be a silent auction featuring cases of wine, jewelry from Manfredi, and a series of collectors' posters of the renowned Fair of Milan.

David and Nancy Hofmann of Pennington are chairmen for the event. Other area comittee members are Gail Barrows, David Beaomont, Peter Benchley, Henry Gross, Llura and Gordon Gund, Peak Hogen, Vicki Hoghes, Tom Jamieson, Sue Jaques, Nancy Kirkpatrick, Linda and Alan Landis, Leighton Laughlin, Claudette Lauren, Fred Sidon and Buzz Woodworth.

Tickets are $175 per person, and reservations will be limited to 200. Luxury mini-van transportation will be provided into the city. For information, call the New Jersey Chapter at 924-8034.

Sample Life on a Farm At Rutgers' Field Day

Ag Field Day, Rutgers' spring program enabling New Jerseyans to sample farm life for a day, will be held Saturday, April 29, at the Cook College campus.

Animal shows, a petting zoo, games, pony rides, a 5k run and an old-fashioned chicken barbecue ar just a few of the activities planned this spring — the 71st year the event is being staged.

The program, which goes on ran or shine, coincides with the New Jersey Folk Festival, held the same day on the adjoining Dooglass College campus of Rutgers.

The day will include a dog show with categories such as "best trick" and "most like owner." Interested pet owners can stop at the veterinary science information booth that day to find out aboot entering.

Several guided toors also start at 10 a.m., including those of Cook's horticoltural gardens, the Food Science Building, Helyar Woods and the Meteorology Boilding, with demonstrations of weather-prediction and oceanography equipment. Reservations for the tours can be made by calling Jodie Nealley at (201) 932-7617.

The five-kilometer, or 3.1-mile, race will begin at 11:30 a.m. in front of Lipman Hall.

To register call (201) 932-9155.

A chicken barbecue luncheon will be served between 11:30 and 1:30. The lunch is $5 for adults and $3 for children, and reservations must be made in advance by calling (201) 932-9215.

Benevolent Manipulation Is Symposium Subject

An all-day symposium, "Benevolent Manipulation — Psychotherapy and Medication Hand-in-Hand," will be held at the Nassau Inn on Saturday. The symposium is co-sponsored by Princeton Psychiatric Centers and Fair Oaks Hospital.

Keynote speakers will be Dr. Jeffrey T. Apter, of Princeton Psychiatric Centers; Dr. Andrew Slaby, medical director of Fair Oaks Hospital; and Drs. Arnold Lazarus and Robert Woolfolk of Rutgers University.

For more information, call Karen McClood at Fair Oaks Hospital, (201) 522-7049.

Yen for Potato Planting? Here's Your Opportunity

Volunteer farmers are needed to plant potatoes at Howell Living History Farm in Hopewell Township. No experience is required — but a love for digging, planting, and handling potatoes is essential.

While the farmers open furrows with a one-horse plow, the planting crew will be briefed on the basics of planting potatoes. People of all ages are invited to participate, but children under 10 must be accompanied by an adult.

The children's craft, "potato heads," will be offered continuously from 11 to 3. There is a 50 cent materials' fee. Admission and parking are free.

Open House Planned At Duplicate Bridge Site

The YWCA will hold an open house Bridge Party at the Stony Brook recreation facility on Sunday with a social hour at 1 and duplicate bridge from 2 to 5.

There will be refreshments and prizes. The public is invited, free of charge. The entrance to the Stony Brook swim and tennis facility is on Stony Brook Road, off County Route 654 (formerly 518 Spur) between Hopewell Valley Golf Club and Charley's Brother restaurant.

Plans for the expanded program include ACBL-accredited duplicate bridge three times a week: Monday evenings at 7:30, Thorsdays from 11 to 3, and Sunday afternoons at 2. The bridge, at both the open house and thereafter, will be for both novice and open play. Lessons on all levels, including absolute beginners, will be offered.

Joseph Sabatino will be the manager for the YWCA's expanded duplicate program. Mr. Sabatino is a certified bridge teacher and member of the New Jersey Bridge League which is accountable for the activities of the ACBL (American Contract Bridge League) in New Jersey. Directors of the games will be Donna Prickett and David Sommer, both certified directors.

For more information, call Marga Dillow at the YWCA, 497-2124.

Disease & Imperialism Topic of Public Lecture

Philip Curtin, Herbert Baxter Adams Professor of History at Johns Hopkins University, will lecture on "Disease and Imperialism" Thursday, April 27, at 8 in Dodds Auditorium, Robertson Hall.

Part of the University Public Lecture Committee series on Revolutions, Dr. Curtin will focus on the revolution in tropical medicine that enabled colonial countries worldwide to expand into areas that were formerly uninhabitable to Westerners. He will address the question of whether the improvement in medicine may have contributed to the European drive for empire in the last decades of the 19th century.

Dr. Curtin's work on Africa and the slave trade has won him wide recognition, including the MacArthur Prize Fellowship. He is currently on the board of directors of the World History Association and a counsellor to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

His many publications include books on Cross Cultural Trade in World History and Economic Change in Precolonial Africa: Senegambia in the Era of the Slave Trade.

Philip Curtin

CLANCY AWARD WINNERS: Elizabeth Johnson, left, won this year's Clancy Award, sponsored by Robert Clancy and the Council for Community Service for sustained "hands-on" volunteer effort, for having helped found Meals-on-Wheels in 1972 and volunteering for it ever since. Corinna Gilfillan won the Clancy Youth Award for her work on environmental issues with the Princeton High School Environental Council.

Presentations Planned By Counseling Center

The Center for Guidance and Counseling of Trenton and Princeton will sponsor a series of presentations entitled "Coping with Your Emotions." The series will take place at the Hopewell Township branch of the Mercer County Library, located on the Pennington-Titusville Road in Pennington.

The first talk, scheduled for May 1 from 10 to 11:30 a.m., will focus on moving from feeling bad to feeling good. Dr. William K. Kirby, clinical director of The Center for Guidance and Counseling, will address coping with feelings such as worry, anger and depression. He will talk about taking responsibility for one's own feelings and getting off the emotional roller coaster. The main theme of the first presentation will be methods of replacing negative thinking and feelings with positive ideas and feelings.

The workshop is free and open to the public, but space is limited. Call Kathi at the Center at 921-1773 or 392-7174 to register.

Panel Discussion Set On Area's Rapid Growth

P.A.U.S.E. (People Against Uncontrolled Suburban Expansion) and the West Windsor-Plainsboro Regional PTA will jointly sponsor a community-wide forum on the implications and ramifications of the area's rapid growth from 8 to 10 p.m. on April 24, at the West Windsor-Plainsboro middle school. It will provide a comprehensive look at the financial, human, and educational implications of the region's extremely rapid growth rate.

The forum will be moderated by Sam Earle, editor and publisher of the West Windsor-Plainsboro Chronicle. Panelists will be Prof. David Nissen of the School of Business at Rutgers University; Walt Meyers, president of the West Windsor-Plainsboro board of education, and Steve Decter, chairman of the West Windsor Growth Management Planning Committee.

Topics to be discussed include the cost to existing residents of additional new large homes, the amount of additional construction that has already been approved, the amount of vacant land that currently remains, future school population projections, and what can be done to manage growth.

YMCA Dance Program Adding to Its Schedule

The YMCA dance program will add weekday mornings and Saturday afternoon hours to its normal Tuesday-Thursday routine.

The director is Annette Festa, who teaches classes in ballet, tap and modern dance.

From the moment you discover your companionship with God, you begin to end the pain of loneliness.

For even in solitude, you have His thoughts to warm you. Pure, creative, loving thoughts, that make solitude as satisfying as pleasant company — and help you know the completeness He gave you.

The Christian Science Sentinel lets you see these things more clearly. Every week, each short article, editorial and testimony of healing brings assurance of God's nearness, and of His love for you.

If you'd like a sample copy, just stop in and ask for one. It's free.

Prize-Winning Poets To Read at Arts Council

Theodore Weiss and Christopher Bursk will read their poems at 8 p.m. on Thursday, April 27, at the Arts Council of Princeton, 102 Witherspoon Street.

Author of 12 books of poetry, most recently From Princeton One Autumn Afternoon: Collected Poems, Ted Weiss is Paton Foundation Professor Emeritus at Princeton University. Since 1943, he and his wife, Renee Weiss, have published and edited the Quarterly Review of Literature, which carried the early work of such poets as Wallace Stevens, William Carlos Williams, William S. Merwin, James Wright, and James Dickey, and, before featuring women had become widespread, presented such now-famous poets as Linda Pastan, Denise Levertov, Jean Garrigue, and Mona Van Duyn. A first whole edition was given to Marianne Moore's work.

Theodore Weiss

Christopher Bursk

Christopher Bursk, also a teaching poet, is a member of the English Department at Bucks County Community College, where he has spent the past 20 years. Frequently a partisan of such needy people as the homeless, he recently won a National Endowment in the Arts Fellowship. This year, he was awarded the Word Works Washington Prize for his book, The Way Water Rubs Stone.

When the poets finish reading at 9 p.m., the audience will be invited to join them in conversation. Refreshments will be served. For further information, call Robin Middleman at The Arts Council, 924-8777.

"Spring Fever" Fashions At Forrestal Marriott

A spring fashion show, "Catch the Spring Fever," will be held at the Forrestal Village Marriott on Monday, at 7 p.m. The event is free and open to the public.

New York models will preview a diverse range of styles for men, women and children, including designer sports and swimwear, corporate apparel, and couture lines.

Designs and accessories will be provided by these Forrestal Village shops: Au Courant, Audrey Jones, Charter Club, Cignal Fine Design, Para, The Icing, Esprit, Roots, Putumayo, French Creek Sheep & Wool, Mark Fore & Strike, Whippersnappers, and Motherworks. A cash bar and hors d'oeuvre will be offered.

In the evening, participants will attend dinner theater productions of Fiddler on the Roof and 42nd Street. Evening entertainment also includes dinner at Hausners in Baltimore surrounded by works of art by painters such as Rembrandt and Whistler.

The cost for club members is $250 for double occupancy, $320 for single occupancy, and $240 for triple occupancy. The price includes accommodations for four days and three nights at a Quality Inn hotel and three buffet breakfasts. Call 921-9480 to make reservations.

Space Is Available In YWCA Artisans Guild

It's not too late to sign up for a spring art or craft class at the YWCA Artisans Guild.

Suzanne Inomata, who has studied Ikebana in Tokyo and New York City, will offer two evening sections of Ikebana beginning Wednesday and Thurday, April 19 and 20. Each section runs for two weeks and includes flowers, demonstrations and time for participants to complete an arrangement.

Pen & Ink with artist Christine Jordan will begin on Friday morning April 28. Quilters can enroll in two sessions of pattern drafting, or three sessions focusing on piecing representational quilt squares entitled "Trees, Animals, Houses, and More." Beginning and intermediate quilters have th opportunity to work with Australian quilt teacher, Susan Karoly, and two Saturday morning Origami workshops are scheduled for May.

A daylong basket workshop will take place on May 9. The registration deadline for the basket workshop is Tuesday. Call the YWCA office at 497-2100 for specific dates and times. Register at the YWCA office, Paul Robeson Place.

Alcohol, Drug Outpatient Education Sessions Set

The outpatient education and treatment program offered by the Mercer Council on Alcoholism and Drug Addiction will begin its next closed group sessions on Saturday morning, May 20, at the Lawrence branch of the Mercer County Library, on Darrah Lane at Route 1, and Wednesday evening, May 17, at the Council offices, 408 Bellevue Avenue, Trenton.

Each program will consist of 15 two-hour group sessions on alcoholism, alcohol/drug abuse and related problems. A certified alcoholism counselor will moderate the groups, designed for those concerned about their own alcohol/drug use, that of a family member or friend, those arrested for driving while under the influence or other alcohol-related offenses, and those who want to learn more about alcoholism and addiction.

The program is approved by the NJ Division of Motor Vehicles, the Bureau of Countermeasures, and the NJ Department of Health, Division of Alcoholism. The program will accept referrals from judges, employers, alcoholism counselors, health and human service professionals and family members. Evaluations and progress reports will be provided to the referring agencies upon request.

Participation in this program is covered by federal confidentiality laws. All discussion in the group and individual sessions will be held in confidence.

A modest, income-based fee is due upon registration. Some health insurance companies will cover the cost. The two upcoming groups will be selected and closed on a first-come, first-served basis. To register, call Bonnie Heine at 396-5874.

Long-Term Employees Honored by Hospital

Dorothy McCarthy of Kingston has been honored by Princeton Medical Center for 35 years of service. Mrs McCarthy has worked in the laundry department of the Medical Center since 1954

William Snyder, the chief technologist in Radiology was cited for 30 years of service, while Alyce Swartz, nurse anesthesiologist, and Barbara Reese, a registered nurse on A-3, were honored for 25 years of service each.

In addition, 145 other employees were honored at a dinner in the hospital dining room for terms of service in increments of five years. In acknowledging the five-, ten-, 15- and 20-year award recipients, Dennis W. Doody, president of Princeton Medical Center, noted that the strong commitment of employees to their patients and the friendly atmosphere of the Medical Center have combined to encourage people to stay at the Medical Center for extended tenures.

Each year the Medical Center acknowledges approximately 150 employees for their service.

HONORED: Dorothy McCarthy, who has served in the laundry department of Princeton Medical Center for 34 years, was among employees honored at a dinner attended by Dennis Doody, president.

Runners May Register For Hilltop Road Race

Registration is being taken for the 7th annual Hilltop Road Race to benefit Hilltop Park. The five-mile race will be held Sunday, May 7, and will start at 1 at the Princeton Shopping Center. Registration forms are available at the New Jersey National Bank, the YM-YWCA, Competitive Sport, Hulit's Shoes and Thomas Sweet.

Hilltop Park, across Bunn Drive from Princeton Community Village, has gradually been taking shape, thanks in large measure to the work of the residents in sponsoring the road race and other fund raising efforts. There is more yet to be done.

More play equipment, picnic tables and benches are needed, and one area of the park could become a soccer field for the whole community. Sponsors are being sought for the road race, as well as cntributions to defray costs for police, the timer, printing and awards.

For information call Princeton Community Housing Inc. 921-1686 or Jenny Guberman, 921-1610 evenings.

Care of Aging Parents Topic of Talk April 27

Harriet Bogdanoff, clinical social worker and psychotherapist, will speak Thursday, April 27, at 8 at the Jewish Center about problems faced by caretakers of aging parents and relatives. She will address such questions as what to plan for, how to cope with crisis, and how not to feel guilty.

Mrs. Bogdanoff has been a counselor at Corner House and at Jewish Family Service of the Delaware Valley. Currently, in addition to maintaining a private practice, she is coordinator of the Elder Care Counseling Service of the Center for Home Health Development.

Ettl Farm

that the decision rests with the Township.

In the process of revising the ordinance, the contribution expected from Mr. Nalitt for the Township Housing Fund was cut in half, but the lawsuit remained in effect pending resolution of issues relating to the timing of the payments.

As Township Attorney Edwin Schmierer described the terms of the settlement agreement, the total amount is tied to obtaining all approvals, and the timing of payments is tied to the phasing of the project. Phase I, consisting of 67 lots, lies within a sewer service district; Phase II of 50 lots lacks sewer at this time. If final subdivision and site plan approval for all 117 lots are obtained the total contribution will be $1,878,800, of which $1 million will be from Phase I and the balance from Phase II.

The project received Planning Board approval with numerous conditions last fall but has yet to receive approval from all the agencies required to "sign off" on the project under the land use law. Thus one stipulation of the settlement agreement provides that if fewer lots are approved by these agencies, or if any lots are not allowed to be included in the public service area of the Mercer County 208 Water Quality Management Plan, the contribution from that phase will be reduced proportionately.

Payments will be made separately for each phase, based on the total number of lots receiving all the final approvals. Twenty-five percent will be paid upon final approval, 50 percent on the receipt of a building permit, and the final 25 percent on the receipt of a certificate of occupancy.

When the settlement agreement is signed Mr. Nalitt would pay $50,000 as credit against the first quarter of the Phase I payment. Another $50,000 would be paid as credit against the first 25 percent of the Phase II payment when the Township's revised 201-208 Wastewater Management Plan is approved by Mercer County and the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection.

Committee members raised questions about one paragraph of the settlement agreement which entitles Mr. Nalitt to a refund if ordinances relating to developers' fees for affordable housing are finally determined to be invalid. Committeeman Tom Poole also said that it was "likely" that Mr. Nalitt would be selling the property and suggested that language be added to cover this eventuality.

Property May Be for Sale. Having heard that the Ettl property is listed for sale with the N.T. Calloway firm, TOWN TOPICS sought confirmation from Mr. Nalitt himself. Reached at his office on Staten Island by phone, Mr. Nalitt acknowledged that he had received several expressions of interest in the property from individuals as well as suggestions from financial institutions that the development become a joint venture.

But he said no one as yet had offered him a firm price, no decision had been made and no deal struck. "I would be foolish to say that I won't sell it," Mr. Nalitt said, but he declined to put a value on the 190-acre property. "We will listen to any offer," he said, "but it is not actively on the market."

He said he had anticipated starting construction last fall, and then this spring, but he pointed out that the Planning Board approval was conditioned on some 40 or 60 items. He said he was continuing to work through these items and that when all the approvals were in hand he would start construction. He anticipated that could be within 30 or 60 days.

Meanwhile, Township Committee has postponed until next Monday voting on the proposed settlement agreement. Moneys from Ettl Farms and the Hillier development of the former PDS-Cadle tract are expected to be the major source of immediate funds for the Township Housing Board.

The board wants to set up a revolving loan program to assist low- and moderate-income families who can't quite meet the down payment for the Griggs Farm development. Committee discussed this proposal also last Monday but took no action pending clarification of certain aspects of the program.

Statement so that it will receive federal approval. A public hearing will be held at the time the final EIS is completed, and the final alignment will be announced when the FHWA approves this document. Thus construction of the Princeton Bypass could be eight years away, Mr. Webb suggests.

That gives the two Princetons and Montgomery Township lots of time to look over the Alignment Preservation Maps and make their objections known to the DOT. The maps show a "relocation" of Route 206 starting at Arreton Road and curving past the Princeton Airport to rejoin the present alignment at Orchard Road.

This relocation would allow the western terminus of Route 92 to be located west of Route 206 rather than at the Cherry Valley Road intersection. The 200-foot right-of-way for this relocation cuts across Jim Heidere's home on Route 206 and comes close to the swimming pool of a home on Arreton Road. It also goes across the land owned by Angelo Arcaro where the Township has negotiated to construct regional detention basin "G" to serve the Griggs Farm development, the Princeton Ridge development and any development Mr. Arcaro undertakes on the balance of his 55-acre property. Construction is scheduled to begin on this detention basin this Wednesday, April 19.

An on-grade intersection is proposed just north of Cherry Valley Road, perhaps 1,000 feet west of existing Route 206, at which point Route 92 would begin. Nassau Conover Motors and several small residential buildings lie directly in the path of Route 92 as it heads east.

The highway goes along the Princeton-Montgomery border for a short distance before it curves north, so that it entirely avoids the Montgomery Woods development. This is the northernmost alignment favored by Princeton residents because it would impact neither Autumn Hill Reservation nor the homes at the end of Herrontown Lane.

However, the swing north puts the highway crossing of the D&R Canal and the Millstone River at a point where the two waterways are spread apart, thus potentially creating more impact on the canal and the river. The DOT is still planning to tunnel under River Road, according to Mr. Webb.

A major cloverleaf interchange is shown in Kingston with Route 603 (Laurel Road), midway between the Trap Rock Quarry and Route 27, which would eliminate several homes. The plans are on file in the Township Engineer's office if interested members of the public wish to inspect them.

Traffic Study. Meanwhile, representatives of Princeton Township and Montgomery Township met early this week to discuss sharing the cost of an origin and destination study at key intersections along Route 206, Nassau Street and Route 27.

Officials believe that the results of such a study, to be undertaken by Abbington Ney, traffic engineers, would be helpful to both Princetons and Montgomery in persuading the DOT to their respective views on Route 92 — whether via the negotiating table or via the courts.

The areas to be studied include both sides of all major intersections wtih Route 206 from County Line Road in Montgomery to Nassau Street; also the major intersections with Nassau Street, such as Washington Road and Harrison Street; and with Route 27, such as River Road. Princeton has asked that the Mercer-Alexander Street intersection be studied as well. The mode of the study would be to interview drivers at these intersections.

Township Committee voted to authorize its share of the $18,000 study, contingent upon Princeton Borough joining the project.

This year, we're happy to announce that thousands of Soviet Jews need your help more than ever.

This year, with God's help, tens of thousands of Jews are finally leaving the Soviet Union. This gives all of us who have struggled for their freedom a feeling of pride and accomplishment.
But it also means thousands of new Jewish immigrants in Israel and the U.S. — newcomers requiring help with housing, medical care, job training and Jewish education.

We are proud to have helped our brothers and sisters find freedom. Now we must help them begin to live it.

What Do Wilde, Ibsen and Dickens Have in Common? McCarter to Stage Productions by All 3 Next Season

The 1989-90 drama season at McCarter Theatre will feature three classics and no world premieres.

The season will begin with Constance Ray's Smoke on the Mountain, a comedy about the visit of a family of bluegrass gospel singers to a Baptist Church in the Blue Ridge Mountains. Set in 1983, the music-filled comedy was first performed at McCarter last summer. Smoke on the Mountain will run from October 3 to 22.

It will be followed by a new edition of Oscar Wilde's The Importance of Being Earnest, a comedy of manners and mistaken identity set in Victorian England. The dates for this production are October 31 to November 19.

Henrik Ibsen's An Enemy of the People will be performed in February. The play focuses on a doctor who takes a courageous stand when pollutants are discovered in the water supplying the town's major tourist attraction. Instead of being lauded, he is criticized for his honesty and becomes "the enemy of the people."

An adaptation of Charles Dickens' A Tale of Two Cities by McCarter Artistic Director Nagle Jackson will be mounted in late March, early April. This saga of the French Revolution will be followed in May by Alan Ayckbourn's Woman in Mind, a comedy by one of Britain's most successful playwrights.

Subscriptions for the 1989-90 season are now available. Subscribers to all five plays can save up to 30 percent over the cost of single ticket admission. Subscribers also receive dinner coupons, ticket exchange privileges, and five free issues of Asides, the new subscriber newsletter. Subscribers are also invited to attend pre-opening lectures on each play.

Subscriptions range from $70 to $120. For information call 924-8900 between 9 and 6.

For Young Audiences.

McCarter will initiate a young audience subscription series with the 1989-90 drama season. Young people age 10 to 17 may attend all five plays for just $20; however, the subscription is available only when purchased in conjunction with an adult subscription to the series.

Young subscribers will receive a student guide for each play in the series. Young Audience subscribers and their parents will be invited for a one-day retreat at which they will meet actors, take a backstage tour, visit the props, scene and costume shops, participate in improvisation workshops and take mini-classes in stage make-up and stage combat.

Young Audience subscribers will also receive a 10 percent discount on all McCarter Training Wing classes. Taught by professionals, Training Wing offers classes in make-up, acting, writing scenes, stage combat and other topics.

News of the THEATRES

Triangle Club Show Will Open on April 27

The Princeton University Triangle Club's 1989 show entitled Satanic Nurses: A Comedy of Terrors will open Thursday, April 27, at 7:30 at McCarter Theatre.

This year's student-written musical comedy includes "madcap monsters and zany zombies who sing and dance their way through a ghoulish evening of comedy," according to the producers. The revue-style skits delve into the world of horror, visiting, among others, "Skeletons in the Closet," and everyone's favorite game show, "Wheel of Torture."

———

In 1891, Triangle put on its first student-written show, Poco-hontos in a University din- profit of $11.50. Since then, Triangle has provided a training ground for such luminaries as James Stewart '32, Jose Ferrer '34, Joshua Logan '31, Wayne Rogers '55 and most recently, Brooke Shields '87.

Original Play Slated At the Villagers Barn

Strange Snow, a dramatic comedy by Steve Metcalfe, will open at the Franklin Villagers Barn Theatre on Friday. Performances will continue on weekends through May 14.

Strange Snow is the basis for the current film Jacknife which stars Robert DeNiro, Ed Harris and Kathy Baker. In addition to writing the original script and screenplay for Jacknife, Mr. Metcalfe also wrote the screenplay for the movie Cousins.

The Villagers production of Strange Snow will feature John F. Hickson III as Dave Flanagan, a truck driver, former high school sports hero and Vietnam veteran who is living at home with his school teaching sister, Martha, portrayed by Nancy Quinlivan. Jerry Marino Jr. plays Megs, Dave's energetic war buddy who now operates a garage.

Marc Weinblatt, who directed productions of The Miss Firecracker Contest and The Threepenny Opera, is directing.

Strange Snow will run April 21 through May 14 on Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30; Sundays, April 23 and May 7, at 7:30 p.m., and Sundays, April 30 and May 14, at 2 p.m. Tickets are $11 Fridays and Saturdays and $9 on Sundays. Students and seniors receive a $2 discount on Fridays and Sundays only.

Group rates are also available. For further information or reservation call (201) 873-2710.

Performances will be on Thursday and Sunday at 7:30, Friday and Saturday at 8. Tickets are on sale at the McCarter box office, 683-8000.

and Saturday at 8 p.m. in Dillon Gymnasium, main floor. The company performs diverse works in jazz, ballet and modern dance choreographed to music by George Winston, Midnight Star, Bach, Laurie Anderson and others. Joining the company of ten dancers will be the Princeton Mime Company.

The repertory of Expressions has broadened considerably over the past few years from a largely modern dance base to include both ballet and jazz choreography. Under the direction of current artistic director Christina Duffy, a junior at Princeton University, the company has reached a technical peak unmatched in previous years.

Tickets for the performance may be purchased at the door. Tickets are $3 for Princeton University students and senior citizens, and $5 for others.

Play by Arthur Miller Next at George Street

Arthur Miller's classic drama All My Sons will open Friday at the George Street Playhouse.

Directed by GSP's Associate Artistic Director Wendy Liscow, All My Sons weaves a tangled plot of loyalty, deceit and family honor as the life of a middle class family turns into a nightmare through one man's actions during World War II. Although All My Sons marks Ms. Liscow's directorial debut at GSP, her past work includes A Doll's Life, Strange Snow, The Housekeepr, Blithe Spirit and Mousetrap.

———

The cast features Tony Carlin as Chris Keller. Mr. Carlin is perhaps best known for his portrayal of Andrew Collier on television's Loving.

John Ramsey and Isa Thomas portray Joe and Kate Keller. Mr. Ramsey has appeared in such Broadway productions as Find Your Way Home, Sly Fox and 42nd Street, while Ms. Thomas, a 20-year member of the resident acting company at the Asolo State Theatre, was recently featured in A Flash of Green.

———

Also in the cast are Diane Gilch, Ellen Hulkower, Anne Kerry Ford, Neal Lerner, Michael Pollard and Fritz Sperberg.

The role of Bert will be shared by Glen Kessler and Jeremy Martin. Mr. Kessler, a third grader at Judd Elementary School in North Brunswick, has participated in drama workshops with the Creative Theatre in Princeton. Mr. Martin, a resident of Spotswood, is a fifth grader at Appleby School and is a student in the acting classes at GSP.

Previews will begin on Wednesday, April 19, and All My Sons will run through May 14. Performances are Tuesday through Saturday evenings at 8; Sundays at 2 and 7; and Thursday matinees at 12 noon. Tickets range from $16 to $25.

The George Street Playhouse is located at 9 Livingston Avenue in downtown New Brunswick. Parking is available for $1 behind the DKM Properties at 303 George Street, across from the Livingston Avenue/George Street intersection (entrance on New Street).

For further information or ticket reservations call at (201) 246-7469.

Auditions This Sunday For Comedy Thriller

The Franklin Villagers Barn Theatre will hold open auditions for Gerald Moon's Corpse on Sunday starting at 2 p.m.

The British comedy thriller will open Friday, July 7, and run Wednesday through Sunday evenings until July 23. Corpse opened in London in 1984 and had a successful run on Broadway in 1986 with Keith Baxter and Milo O'Shea.

Set in London on Abdication Eve in 1936, Corpse tells the story of twin brothers whose sibling rivalry leads to one plotting the other's murder. Evelyn, the poor out-of-work actor, hires Major Powell, a shady soldier of fortune, to kill his rich brother Rupert. The plans are disrupted by unexpected visits from Evelyn's flirtatious widowed landlady, Mrs. McGee and the inquisitive Constable Hawkins.

Director John F. Hickson Jr. is looking for a versatile actor aged 25 to 35 to play both Evelyn and Rupert Farrant; a woman aged 45 to 55 to play Mrs. McGee; a man aged 50 to 60 to play Major Powell; and a man 25 to 40 to play Constable Hawkins. Those auditioning will be asked to read from the script. Those auditioning for Major Powell should be prepared to read with an Irish accent; all other roles require a British accent.

Rehearsals will begin the first week of May and will be held largely on weekends. A copy of the script will be on reserve at the Franklin Township Library adjacent to the theatre.

Auditions will be held at the Franklin Villagers Barn Theatre which is located in the Franklin Township Municipal Complex at 475 DeMott Lane (between Easton Avenue and Amwell Road) in the Somerset section of Franklin Township.

For further information call (201) 873-2710.

New Comedy Mystery To Open at Crossroads

A neurotic Black yuppie couple, a haunted Southern mansion and two offbeat local characters are combined in Don Evans' new play, Spooks, which premieres at Crossroads Theatre Company on Saturday, April 29, at 8:30 p.m.

The play will run through Sunday, May 28. Previews are scheduled for April 26 and 27.

Spooks marks a homecoming for Mr. Evans, a former professor of black theater history at Douglass College at Rutgers, and longtime artistic contributor to Crossroads. Five of Evans' plays, beginning with One Monkey Don't Stop No Show in 1980, were premiered at Crossroads. The others were: A Lovesong for Miss Lydia (1982); Staggerlee Brown (1983); It's Showdown Time (1983); and Sweet Daddy Love (1985). All except for Lovesong were comedies.

In Spooks, Mr. Evans has taken a cultural fascination with superstition and added a modern twist. A black, upwardly mobile couple, or "Buppies," discover that their dream house — a Virginia mansion — comes with more "extras" than they bargained for. This lighthearted comedy-mystery evokes such familiar detective couples as Mr. and Mrs. North of the movies and the MacMillans of television.

Spooks stars Reuben Greene and Myra Taylor as Howard and Karen Johnson, Lex Monson as Son, and Lizan Mitchell as Lucinda. Howard is a successful writer and Karen is his superstitious, excitable wife. Son and Lucinda are their mysterious new neighbors who deliver local lore and mystical advice to the newcomers.

Former actress Seret Scott is directing the production at Crossroads. She previously has directed with the Long Wharf Theatre in Connecticut, National Black Theater in New York and UBU Repertory Company.

Performances are at 8 p.m. Wednesday through Friday; at 4 and 8:30 p.m. Saturday; and 3 p.m. Sunday. Ticket prices range from $12 to $30.

For ticket information, call the Crossroads' box office at (201) 249-5560.

Sparky Rucker

MUSIC

Folk Music Concert Set This Friday at Church

The Princeton Folk Music Society will feature Sparky Rucker in concert Friday at 8 at Christ Congregation.

Mr. Rucker carries on a tradition established by the great folk singers and songwriters of the 20th century. Echoes of Woody Guthrie, Robert Johnson, Leadbelly, Mississippi John Hurt and others can be heard in his music; yet he copies none of them, and his style is his own.

———

Blessed with an evocative voice, a good-natured, perceptive sense of humor and a mastery of the guitar, Mr. Rucker knows how to leave an audience feeling good about the human race even after dealing with some serious subjects. Whether singing about war, sex, lost love, jail, buffalo hunters, black frontiersmen or life on the road, he invests "unquestionable authority" in the material, according to the concert's sponsors.

Admissions are $6 for adults, $5 for students and Society members, $3 for children and senior citizens. There are no advance sales, and memberships are available at the door.

For further information call 799-0009.

Barbershop Singers Plan Annual Concert

To celebrate the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Princeton Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBSQSA), the Garden Statesmen Chorus and member quartets will present two concerts Saturday, April 29. There will be a matinee at 2 and an evening concert at 8.

The theme is a traveling music show which will take the audience on a tour of Dixie as far south as Alabama. The singers will be proclaiming — as did the members of the Broadway show — that There's No Business Like Show Business.

For more information or tickets call 924-0565, or 921-6487. Tickets may also be purchased at the War Memorial box office.

The "Resurrection" Symphony a Successful Undertaking For Princeton University Orchestra Plus Area Choirs

Stuart Mindlin's life encompassed many activities, people, and much music through his association as a percussionist with the Princeton University Orchestra. For the first annual concert to benefit a scholarship fund in Mr. Mindlin's name, it was only fitting that Conductor Michael Pratt selected a work which not only featured an extensive percussion section, but which also reached across the boundaries of several Princeton communities touched by Mr. Mindlin's life: the University, Westminster Choir College, and the professional music public at large.

The Resurrection Symphony (Symphony No. 2 in C Minor) of Gustav Mahler calls for instrumental and vocal forces which tax even a musical community as large as Princeton. Mr. Pratt augmented his University Orchestra with a large number of community players, and the University Glee Club and Chapel Choir were aided by the Westminster Singers and a few professional choristers. Featured as vocal solosits were soprano Anne Ackley Gray and mezzo-soprano Laura Brooks Rice, both stalwarts of the Princeton professional vocal scene.

Mahler's Symphony No. 2 was begun in 1888, completed in 1894, and first performed in 1895 with Mahler himself directing. Gustav Mahler was notorious for his dark and brooding nature — a characteristic which found its way into his music — as he sought to find artistic answers to some of life's more complex questions. His own notes to Symphony No. 2 outlined the work as addressing such questions as "Have we any continuing existence?" and "Is it all an empty dream, or has this life of ours a meaning?"

From the opening downbeat, Conductor Pratt made clear his intention to capture Mahler's sense of drama and spiritual foreboding. The clean and precise unisons of the lower strings dominated the rest of the orchestra, and Pratt's subtle mood changes from mystifying to ethereal set the stage for a first movement full of substance and musical sustenance.

Big Brass. The mainstay of any Mahler orchestra is the brass section, which in this case was augmented to almost colossal proportions — eight horns were seated on stage and several more were heard throughout the evening from various off-stage positions. The percussion section included two sets of timpani, various separate drums, and the inevitable gong which appears in many of Mahler's works.

The orchestra covered the full range of the stage, leaving the percussionists in the unenviable position of being almost under the "eaves" of the balcony, a location which perhaps could not be avoided, but which sometimes muffled their dramatic effect.

Several winds provided strong musical performances in the first movement, in particular the clarinet, playing in a very high register, and the English horn. Mahler's flair for instrumentation came alive in the second movement as a landler for strings was colored by a single flute, harp or other selected instrument. Although it may not have been apparent to the audience at the time, the deliberate and lengthy pause between the first and second movements represented to Mahler the "break between the grave and resurrection to allow the tragedy of death to fade from the memory."

The compositional mind of Mahler worked in mysterious ways in the construction of this movement, and style ranged from demonic fury to a complete waltz performed on pizzicatto strings. Again, Mr. Pratt's conducting led the orchestra adeptly through these musical gear shifts.

The third movement is subtitled In ruhig fliessender Bewegung (in restful flowing motion), and the emphasis in this movement was on "flowing." A solo flute provided commendable playing throughout the movement, and the percussion section came to life as, in Mahler's words, "The world and life become a witches' brew."

Up until the 20th century, Mahler was one of only two composers who mixed the idioms of symphony and the human voice (the other was Beethoven). In both cases, it can be said that the vast array of instrumental resources in a symphony orchestra may have proved inadequate to convey the musical ideas of the composer. The movement subtitled "Urlicht" Sehr feierlich, aber schlicht ("Primal Dawn": Very solemn, but simple) is sung primarily by the mezzo soloist. The text is heavily concentrated on the concept of man's returning to God for "eternal blissful life," a theological philosophy which pervades much of Mahler's vocal music. Ms. Rice performed with perfect Mahlerian vocal pathos, and possesses a dark mezzo voice well-suited to the score.

Seeking an Answer. Mahler struggled with the Finale of this five-movement symphony in order to find the right text to answer the musical and philosophical questions posed earlier in the work. While attending the funeral of conductor Hans von Bulow, Mahler heard a choral setting of the ode Resurrection by poet Friedrich Gottlieb Klopstock, and chose these words to close this mammoth symphony. Off-stage brass extended the orchestral range further, and this performance was heightened by the playing of the trombone quartet and solo oboe.

Ms. Rice was featured again in this movement, together with Ms. Ackley Gray, who had a sporadic, but soaring part as soprano soloist. The meat of this section, however, belonged to the army of singers who lined the back rows of the Richardson Auditorium stage. Although the ages and vocal training of the singers varied considerably, their sound was substantial, and they stayed right with Mr. Pratt as he wended his way through the text.

The performance of this symphony was a substantial undertaking on the part of all involved, centered around providing a tribute to someone who was known, although perhaps not directly, to almost everyone onstage and in the audience.

The funds raised from this performance (and the subsequent one of the following Sunday afternoon) will be used to provide instrumental training for members of the orchestra and will be an ongoing activity, thus helping to assure the high quality of the University Orchestra in years to come.

War Memorial Theatre in Trenton.

The program features Brahms' Symphony No. 3 and Stravinksy's Symphony of Psalms. Also on the program are Stravinsky's Symphonies of Wind Instruments and a short choral work, Nanie, by Brahms.

Tickets are available at $9.50 to $28. Student and senior rush tickets can be purchased one-half hour before performance at $5, subject to availability. For tickets and information, call the NJSO box office at (201) 624-8203 Monday through Friday, 9 to 3.

Violinist in Recital On University Campus

The Friends of Music will present violinist Martin Stoner in recital Sunday at 7:30 in the McAlpin Room in Woolworth Center on the Princeton University campus.

The recital will feature works associated with renowned violinist Fritz Kreisler, including Kreisler's own Praeludium and Allegro and Recitativo and Scherzo-Caprice, as well as a sonata written by the virtuoso-composer Eugene Ysaye for Kreisler. It will also include sonatas by Beethoven and Schubert.

The public is invited to attend without charge.

Glee Club Concert Set For Alexander Hall

The Princeton University Glee Club, under the direction of Prof. Walter Nollner, will persent its annual April concert in Richardson Auditorium on Friday and Saturday, at 8:30 p.m.

The first half of the program will feature Missa de beata virgine by the French Renaissance composer Josquin des Prez. One of the most mature works by Josquin, the mass is set for a number of voice-parts ranging from two to five, and is one of the most intricate mass settings in the composer's entire output. The work will be performed unaccompanied.

The second half will begin with the Lovesong-Waltzes (Opus 52) by Brahms. This is the original set, written by Brahms in the late 1860s, that probably did more to win popularity for him in his newly-adopted city of Vienna than any other single work. The work is scored for solos, ducts, small groups and large chorus with the accompaniment of one piano, four hands, to be played by Ilei-ock Kim '89 and William Speed '90.

The program will conclude with Three American Songs by Aaron Copland, made up of a campaign song ("The Dodger"), a Shaker song ("Simple Gifts") and a minstrel song ("Ching a ring chaw"). These are three folksongs adapted by Copland and arranged for chorus by Irving Fine.

Tickets for the concerts are on sale at the Richardson Auditorium box office, which may be reached at 452-5000, weekday afternoons from 4 to 6.

Acoustic Trio Due For Concert at PDS

The acoustic group, Metamora, will perform Sunday, April 30 at Princeton Day School. Tickets are $10.

Metamora, composed of Pete Sutherland, Grey Larsen and Malcolm Dalglish, uses a variety of instruments, including anglo-concertina, Irish whistles, fiddle, hammer dulcimer, Hardanger fiddle and keyboards, in an unusual blend of styles. Much of their music is original and based on the traditional dance music of America, Ireland, Scotland and Norway.

Each member of the band is a composer and recording artist and each has a number of projects going. Mr. Sutherland is preparing an album of fiddle music for release later this year and will teach and perform at several old-time music and dance camps this summer.

Mr. Dalglish will tour this summer with the Columbia Boys Choir, performing his compositions for boys' choir and hammer dulcimer. Mr. Larsen recently served as musical consultant for Sam Shepard's latest film Far North, and is working with several other producers and directors on film scores.

Work for Four Pianos Scheduled by Orchestra

An American premiere and Bach's concerto for Four Pianos will be highlights of the Chamber Symphony of Princeton's final concert Sunday at 3 in Richardson Auditorium

The majority of Bach's piano concertos with orchestra accompaniment were not originally written for this instrument, but were borrowed from violin concertos, his own or those of others. The Concerto for Four Pianos and Orchestra was transcribed from Vivaldi's Concerto for Four Violins in B-minor. By transcribing violin concertos for the harpsichord, Bach liberated this instrument from the parameters of the basso continuo and permitted it a life of its own. Featured guest artists include Gay Casadesus, Thierry Hulliet, Frank Taplin and Edward Cone.

The program opens with Mozart's Symphony No. 32, written in one movement and performed as an overture to La Bianchia's La villanella rapito. The program continues with Webern's Symphony Opus 21, followed by Ronald Thomas's New Work for Soprano Saxophone and Chamber Orchestra and Charles Koechlin's The Second Sonotine for Soprano Saxophone and Orchestra. The latter two works will feature the classical soprano saxophone soloist, Marshall Taylor. Mr. Thomas's composition was written expressly for the Chamber Symphony of Princeton while the Koechlin Second Sonotine is an American premiere of this work.

Following intermission, the program continues with Mozart's Piano Concerto No. 17 performed by Mr. Hulliet, winner of the 1987 Robert Casadesus International Piano Competition. The Casadesus Society, in collaboration with The Cleveland Institute of Music, organized this competition in 1975, to honor the memory of the great French pianist, composer and teacher. The program concludes with Bach's Concerto for Four Pianos and Orchestra.

Tickets for this performance are $15 regular, $11 senior citizens, $6 students, and may be purchased two hours before the concert. The Richardson Auditorium box office is also open from 4 to 6, Monday through Friday for advance ticket sales. Telephone orders for individual tickets are payable by either Mastercard or Visa by calling the symphony office at 497-0020.

An hour-long documentary of the Chamber Symphony's Middle East Tour will be featured on the New Jersey Network's State of the Arts program (Channel 52 or 26) on Thursday, May 11, at 8 p.m.

Oriental Theme Set For Voices Concert

Voices, an ensemble of professional soloists, will perform a program of music by Chinese and Japanese composers as well as music inspired by the Orient Sunday at 7:30 at All Saints' Church.

Among the works by western composers are excerpts from Delibes' Lakme, Bernstein's Trouble in Tahiti, Gilbert and Sullivan's The Mikado, and Holst's "Hymns from the Rig Veda." The program will also include compositions by two Japanese composers and three Chinese composers as well as excerpts from Madame Butterfly.

Directed by Lynne Ransom, Voices specializes in choral and solo works of the 19th and 20th centuries. Performing in this concert will be Michelle Disco, Suzanne Hickman, Tedd Barr, William Riley, Linda Curtin, Sandra West, Betsy Mackenzie, Nora Sirbaugh, Raul Mattei and Mark Bleeke.

Tickets are $18 for preferred seating, $10 for general admission and $8 for students and senior citizens. Discounts are available for groups of 10 or more. Tickets may be ordered by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope and a check to Voices, Box 404, Pennington 08534. For information call 737-9383.

Fruits and Vegetables At Terhune Orchards

Terhune Orchards on Cold Soil Road is a special place for Princetonians. It is a gathering point for families, a genuine working farm in an age of condos and cruise control, and everyone's favorite spot for apples, cider and a whole range of fruits and vegetables.

"We try to fulfill everyone's idea of what a farm should be," says owner Pam Mount, who with her husband, Gary Mount, purchased Terhune's 15 years ago. "The Terhunes were the original owners," she recalls, "and they planted the first trees in the 1930s. Later, Mr. Terhune's daughter and son-in-law owned it, and we bought it from them. We now farm a total of 150 acres."

Mr. and Mrs. Mount are Princeton natives who graduated from Princeton High School and eventually joined the Peace Corps after their marriage. "We spent three years in Micronesia," she remarks, "and when we came back, we lived in Bucks County. But we were looking to have our own business, and when we saw the 'For Sale' sign here, we didn't hesitate.

"Also," she continues, "Gary's family had owned a large farm and although he went to Princeton and majored in physiological psychology, in a way he was coming back to his roots. We've had to learn as we've gone along," she adds. "In the beginning, it was hard to figure out what all the trees were. Also, being a farmer in New Jersey is one of the most challenging things one can do."

When the Mounts took over, Terhune's was primarily known for apples and peaches and was open to the public only from July to December. It is now open seven days a week all year (except Christmas and a half-day on Thanksgiving).

"We began to add gradually," explains Mrs. Mount. "We had more apples as the orchards became more productive — we now have 45 varieties — but the turning point really came at the time of the oil crisis in the '70s. We had to make this a more worthwhile stop for people, so we added a full line of fresh vegetables. We grow our own sweet corn, tomatoes and zucchini, and we added vegetables from local growers. We now have vegetables year round. We also grow apples organically and we have a section of other organic fruits and vegetables."

Pest Management. With so much concern about the use of herbicides and pesticides now and the quality of foods in general, the Mounts want people to know they have taken special measures to insure the safety of their produce. "We grow all our fruits with integrated pest management," explains Mrs. Mount. "This means we cultivate good insects that eat the bad insects. We monitor everything, and we spray only when it is most effective, so the chemical input is much less. If we do have to spray at a certain time, it is just the one spray that deals with the particular insect. It doesn't harm other insects, birds or animals.

"Also," she adds, "we've planted new types of trees that are disease resistant. We wanted to reduce spraying so we researched the problem and began to plant these trees about six years ago. "In addition," she continues, "we do not use Alar on any of our apples. Also, we grow organic apples, and we are the only orchard in New Jersey doing this. We have convinced some scientists from Rutgers to use our data for study."

Aside from its full line of fresh fruit and vegetables, Terhune's offers a variety of other products. "Cider is sort of 'king' here," smiles Mrs. Mount, "and it is all natural with no preservatives. We also make our own cider doughnuts fresh every day. They go great with the cider. We've also been baking fruit pies with no additives for the last few years.

"We carry fresh bread, from the Hoboken Bakery as well as others, and it is baked with no fat and no cholesterol. In addition, we have a complete selection of New Jersey honey, including such varieties as blueberry, wild raspberry, cranberry and wildflowers. And we also carry a big line of jams, jellies and salad dressings, as well as Welsh Farms milk and eggs and also free range brown eggs. We're starting a new venture, too. Whole bean coffee and we'll have a grinder."

Mrs. Mount also reports that New Jersey spinach arrived last week and that a full range of garden flower bedding plants is available.

Herbs to Trees. "Also," she remarks, "we specialize in herbs, and we have all kinds. We are offering trees for sale now, too, including apple, peach, pear and nectarine. The small bare root trees are $15 and will have fruit in three to four years. The balled trees are $85 and will bear fruit this year."

One of the most enjoyable aspects of a visit to Terhune's — especially for children — is the wide variety of animals who live at the farm. We try to have one or two of every type of animal found on a farm," says Mrs. Mount. We have Tom the horse and Teddy the pony, as well as a cow, geese and ducks, chickens, rabbits, our dog Blossom, and many cats and kittens.

"Children love the animals," she adds. "They can pet them, and we have little packs of food for 15 cents so they can feed them."

Terhune's is also noted for the special events it offers, many with children in mind. "We feel a responsibility to keep tradition alive," explains Mrs. Mount. "This is not always practical but we feel it is important. We have 'Barnyard Birthday Parties' for children, for example. They can celebrate here, have a party with their friends and meet the animals. We also arrange school tours for young children.

"May 20 and 21 will be 'Kite Day,' " she continues. "This is our annual kite flying festival. It's our spring celebration, and in the past five or six years, it has really become a tradition. Kids can make their own kites. We have kite kits for sale, and we'll have music, pony rides, wagon rides through the orchards, as well as chicken barbecue, pies and, of course, apples. There will also be baby chicks hatching in the incubators and sheep shearing."

Prices at Terhune's range from 60 cents a pound for apples ($10 for a half bushel) to $4.94 and $5.95 for pies. Cider is $1.85 a half gallon and $2.95 a gallon. Honey is $2 a jar, and doughnuts 40 cents each or six for $2.

Part of the reason for Terhune's success is the special attention to customers "We are geared to service here," notes Mrs. Mount. "We feel we are a community farm. Certainly with all the problems with the grapes from Chile and the worry over chemicals, it is important to have local farms.

"Also," she continues, "we are a family-owned business. Our three kids, Reuwai, 16, Tannwen, 13, and Mark, 11, are all involved, too. We feel we have a business that makes a difference to people. We get to know everyone who comes. They feel comfortable here — it's a relaxed atmosphere. It's important to have an efficient operation, of course, but it's also good to have a place where people know we can talk, answer questions and spend a little time.

"Finally," she adds, "having diversity in a community is so important. There should be stores, offices and farms. To have these differences is important to a community's health. We've been very active in the Farmland Presrvation Program. There is great need for this, and we hope Mercer County will develop such a program."

Terhune Orchards is open Monday through Friday 9 to 6, Saturday and Sunday 9 to 5, and, starting May 1, until 7 weekdays and until 6 on weekends.

SPRINGTIME HARVEST: "Right now, we want everyone to know the orchards are in bloom, the New Jersey products are starting to be harvested, and it's time for everyone to get to the farm," says Pam Mount, who is surrounded by emerging peach blossoms at Terhune Orchards on Cold Soil Road. "This is Peach Blossom Week," she adds, "and we want to give everyone who comes peach blossoms to take home. It's our way of trying to keep tradition alive."

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to part of all of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick and Franklin Townships, and Griggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs 40 cents.

Crafts, Home Furnishings Found at Now Fancy That

"My daughter and I opened the shop 10 years ago," recalls Shirley Daley, owner of Now Fancy That, the home furnishings and gift shop in Belle Mead. "I have always done handcrafts, including tin painting, cut and pierced lampshades, folk art and sewing. I also do dried flower arrangements and wreaths. When my kids were growing up, I did a lot of volunteer work, such as PTA and church bazaars. Then, after all those years, I thought why not give my own business a try?"

The shop moved to its present location at 877 Route 206 last November, and Mrs. Daley is especially pleased with the new quarters — a 50-year-old white Cape Cod style house. "We were striving for a certain look. We wanted the store to be like a home, and I feel we've achieved that. This is really my ultimate dream for the shop — to be in a little white Cape Cod!"

Indeed, Now Fancy That resembles nothing so much as a very attractive, comfortable family house. Inside, the shop is divided into a series of rooms — living room, kitchen and bath downstairs and two charming bedrooms upstairs.

"We try to give a feeling of what it can all look like in your home," explains Mrs. Daley. "We want it to be inviting — to have people feel comfortable and at home."

Customers have responded to the appealing atmosphere, she reports, and to the wide variety of handcrafted items. "Our specialties include handpainted furniture and handpainted cut and pierced lamp shades," she says. "We also do custom curtains, dust ruffles, pillow shams, shower curtains and seat cushions.

"I think the fact that we do much of the work here ourselves, that we are capable of doing this, sets us apart," she says. "We have done over half the items in the shop ourselves. Jo-Anne Patrowicz and Mary Ann Wood are the craftspeople working with me at the shop. Jo-Anne does most of the painting of the furniture, and Mary Ann works on lamp shades and sewing, an all around helper."

COUNTRY COZINESS: "The country look is popular because of coziness, and also people get caught up in nostalgia. And it's an easy kind of furnishing to deal with because it's flexible. It can go with what you already have. It mixes nicely with contemporary, for example," says Shirley Daley, owner of Now Fancy That.

Furniture Background. Mrs. Daley also has a background in furniture, having sold it for a number of years, and this has helped her in making selections. "We have country furniture (oak, pine and cherry), including upholstery pieces," she notes. "We have a full range of furniture for the living room, dining room and bedroom, as well as occasional pieces.

"I like country," she adds, "and I love antiques. Most of the furniture pieces are reproductions made in Virginia and West Virginia. And quality is first and foremost. We are extremely proud of our own work in the store, and we want all the items to complement what we have.

"We have some pieces in the Bavarian folk art style," she adds, "such as a little chair for a child, and we also have some items in the typical French folk art style and Holland style, as well as American."

Everything from four-poster canopy beds, blanket chests to rocking chairs, armchairs and high chairs to hutches, sofas and benches is available. There are "Dough box" end tables at $240 and handpainted sewing benches at $165 as well as wagon seat benches for $275.

"One of our features is a handpainted, personalized Bride's Box for $85," says Mrs. Daley. "This goes back to the 1700s when a bride was given a box for her personal possessions. It is custom-made, and we coordinate it with the colors the bride will use in her house."

Coordinating is a specialty of Now Fancy That, she adds. "We try to coordinate with what people bring in. For example, we'll coordinate curtains with the cushions for a window seat, and sometimes someone will come in with a cover for a chair and walk out with a lampshade.

"Also," she continues, "we do our own thing here. We don't copy. We avoid a stereotype. When we coordinate, we like to carry through a theme, rather than match exactly."

Pottery, Too. The shop also carries an extensive selection of pottery, including the traditional salt glaze, red ware and other handcrafted pottery. "We have everything from one teacup to a service for 12," reports Mrs. Daley, "as well as pitchers, mugs, dishes and plates, with prices starting at $7.50."

Beautiful handcrafted quilts are from Vermont and done to order, and there is also a selection of art work, including the primitive style of Charles Wysocki and others. Charming silhouettes in blue and white of a small boy and girl are also available and make appealing additions to a child's room. Children will also enjoy the wooden blocks and the handdone stuffed animals and dolls. Rabbits, bears and mice are all on hand in various sizes.

Copper wall hangings, copies of old-time weathervanes, are popular for the kitchen, the traditional "pie safes" (originally chests in the kitchen to keep flies off freshly baked pies). There is also a variety of baskets in many shapes and sizes.

Prices cover a range at Now Fancy That, with cut and pierced lamp shades starting at $25, art work $12.50 and up, pillows $22.50 and up and dried flower arrangements and wreaths starting at $15, with $20 a typical price.

Mrs. Daley looks forward to continuing her association with customers, many of whom have become friends, as well as introducing new visitors to her shop. "I enjoy people," she comments. "I'm a people person, and of course, I enjoy the work, too. Like all business, you work hard and long hours if you want it to be successful.

"But it's rewarding," she continues. "We have a close relationship with folks here. Our customers tend to come back, and even when they move, they seem to take a part of us with them. My furniture has gone to Alaska, and Florida, even to England. And one of my wreaths wound up in the American Embassy in Paris."

Now Fancy That is open Monday through Friday 10 to 6 and Saturday 10 to 5.

Best Designer Fashions On View at Luncheon

The Spring Annual Fashion Show and Luncheon sponsored by the Association of the North Princeton Developmental Center will feature "The Best of American and European Designers" presented by Saks Fifth Avenue of Bala Cynwyd, Pa.

The event will be held Tuesday, May 2, in the all-purpose building at the NPDC in Skillman. In addition to the fashion show and a catered buffet lunch, there will be 14 shops, a garden tent, and door prizes.

The fashion show will take place during the luncheon, which begins at 12:30. It will feature formal day and evening wear from Adolfo, Bill Blass, Anne Klein, Oscar de la Renta, Carolina Herrara, Armani, Valentino and Louis Feraud. The fashions will be modelled by Saks models.

Admission to the show and the luncheon is $25. Tables may be reserved for groups. Call Jill Vincent at 924-6644 for ticket information.

Admission is free to the shops and garden tent, which will open at 10 and close at 3:30. Among the shops are a luggage and tote bag shop called Catch All, of Rye, N.Y.; Frannie's Festive Flags from Titusville; Hardware for Gardeners; Hunny Pot, a gift and needlepoint shop;

Also, Le Papillion, with accessories; Little Cherubs of Hopewell, with children's clothes; Paper Pleasures, from Wilmington, Del., with stationery; Patchpoint of Short Hills, with gifts; Posh, of Rumson, with home decorating items; Present Perfect of Princeton Junction, a gift shop; and the Pro Shop of Short Hills with golf items.

The Spring Annual also features bargains at the White Elephant and Act II, as well as the Garden Tent sponsored by the Contemporary Garden Club.

Tiger Women's Lacrosse, Softball Teams Sharing Spotlight; Both Have Chance at Receiving Bids for NCAA Tournaments

Few local sports fans will ever forget Princeton University's most recent forays into NCAA championship competition.

The men's basketball team shocked and inspired the sporting world with its thrilling 50-49 loss to heavily-favored Georgetown in the first round of the hoops tourney in March, while the men's swimming team overcame the loss to injury of sprinter Erik Osborn to win the 200-yard medley relay in near-record time at Nationals three weeks ago.

As the spring season at Old Nassau passes the halfway mark, two more Tiger squads were threatening to add to the tournament tradition. The softball team gained the No. 2 ranking in the Northeast after a double-header sweep at Villanova, thereby improving its chances of receiving one of the region's two automatic bids to next month's NCAA tourney.

SPORTS

The women's lacrosse team, meanwhile, routed Hofstra and Yale to move up to No. 4 in the Brine-IWLCA national rankings. If they can keep up their current pace, the red-hot laxwomen should enter the NCAA tournament in three weeks as one of the favorites to win it all.

The baseball and men's lacrosse teams, however, had a considerably rougher time of it last week. The Tiger batsmen dropped a sloppy 10-6 decision at home to Lafayette, then watched helplessly as rain forced the postponement of weekend doubleheaders against Navy and Penn (see below for results of Navy games played Monday.)

The sliding laxmen, for their part, would have preferred a pair of rainouts to the 12-4 and 6-1 spankings dealt them by Penn and Brown, respectively. With the lacrosse team mired in a four-game losing streak and the Tiger nine already well off the unbeaten Quakers' EIBL-leading pace, the postseason prospects were slim for both clubs.

The women's tennis team suffered a setback in its drive for the Ivy title, losing its first league match of the season at Dartmouth, while the defending champion men's squad continued its fall from prominence with a home loss to the Big Green.

On the water, the lightweight crews captured the Platt Cup with easy victories over Rutgers and host Cornell, but the heavyweights lagged behind Penn in a race with Columbia on the Harlem River. The women's crew team journeyed to California and placed an impressive third in the Redwood Shores Classic.

Both Tiger track teams triumphed over Cornell at Palmer Stadium, while the golf team claimed its third Ivy title in four years with a three-stroke victory at the league championship tournament in Bethpage, N.Y.

The bad weather limited the softball team to just one outing last week, but coach Cindy Cohen's Tigers made the most of it, sweeping a twinbill from host Villanova on Thursday by scores of 4-0 and 6-1. With the non-conference victories, the team upped its record to 19-6 overall (2-0 Ivy) and captured the No. 2 spot in the region behind Connecticut — a team the Tigers beat just two weeks ago.

EIGHT GOALS ON THE DAY: Princeton's Catherine McCarthy led her teammates on a 17-3 rout of Yale Saturday with eight goals. (Chris Nelson photo, The Daily Princetonian)

Softball Rolls On. Pitching phenom Dawn Roberts (10-5), who entered the game with a microscopic 0.52 ERA, teamed with reliever and co-captain Robbie Fazen for a four-hit shutout in the opener against the Wildcats. A steal of home by Linda Smolka in the second inning got things started offensively for Princeton.

Roberts then helped her own cause with an RBI single for a 2-0 lead. Outfielder Michelle Moody blasted a two-run triple in the fourth to provide insurance for Princeton, which benefitted from Villanova errors.

In the second game, Lori Dickerson went the distance for her second victory in as many decisions, scattering two hits. A bases-clearing double by rookie Steff Detlefson helped stake Dickerson to a 4-0 lead in the first inning.

The softballers' home twinbills against Brown Saturday and Yale Sunday were called on account of rain. The contests with the Bruins were to have been made up Monday, while a new date for the Yale doubleheader has not yet been announced. The Tigers also had a nonleague double-dip at Delaware Tuesday.

Tomorrow, Princeton will visit St. John's for two games, followed by a Sunday showdown against No. 1 UConn on 1895 Field.

Women's Lacrosse Soaring. Any doubts about the women's lacrosse team's ability to score were laid to rest last week, as coach Chris Sailer's fourth-ranked squad devastated Hofstra, 21-1, and Yale, 17-3, to extend its winning streak to five games. The lopsided victories raised the Tigers' record to 9-1 (2-1 Ivy) and kept them in line for an NCAA tourney berth come May.

The Orange and Black simply outclassed visiting Hofstra last Wednesday on Lourie-Love Field, jumping out to a 5-0 lead in the first six minutes of play and never looking back. First home Phyllis Fogarty tallied seven times, while wings Kristen Mautner and Gillian Thomson added six and four goals, respectively.

The defense, meanwhile, completely shut down the Flying Dutchmen's attack, holding the Long Islanders to a single first-half score.

It was more of the same against league also-ran Yale in a near-empty Yale Bowl last

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

John Bernard — Jay Bernard

STURHAHN, DICKENSON & BERNARD

Here's an interesting question ... What player set a big league baseball record — but then had it stopped by his father? ... Cal Ripken Jr., set an all-time record by playing every inning in 910 straight games, going 8,243 consecutive innings from June 5, 1982 to Sept. 14, 1987 ... The streak ended when his manager pulled him from a game because he felt Ripken needed a rest ... His manager — who stopped the record streak — was his father, Cal Ripken Sr.

I bet you didn't know that Blue Cross - Blue Shield's Major Medical coverages terminate at age 65.

Incredibly, there are more than 100 big league baseball players this year making over 1-million dollars each! ... And there are 19 players making over 2-million dollars each.

Here's a fact that shows how amazing a hitter Pete Rose was compared to some other top hitters in baseball history ... Joe DiMaggio had 2 seasons in his career in which he made 200 hits; Willie Mays had one such season; Honus Wagner had 2; Roberto Clemente had 4; Ted Williams had no 200-hit seasons — but Rose had TEN 200-hit seasons, more than any big league player ever.

ONE GOAL, PLENTY OF FRUSTRATION: Brown's zone defense held the Princeton lacrosse team in check all afternoon last Saturday, allowing one goal and few shots. Paul OiBello takes one here as freshman Justin Tortolani watches. (Chris Nelson photo)

Attacker Stewart Fisher racked up three goals to pace Penn's 21-shot assault on goalie and co-captain John Wright, while attacker Will Clyde led Princeton's sluggish effort with a goal and an assist. Wright made seven saves before coming out for a substitute in the final period.

A driving rain slowed down both teams in Saturday's matchup with Brown on Lourie-Love Field, which was still scoreless well into the second period. Andrew Towers broke the ice for Brown, rifling a shot past Wright for a 1-0 lead, and was followed by attackers Darren Lowe and Mike Marinelli before the half as the Bruins took a 3-0 edge into the dressing room.

The Tiger attack, handcuffed by Brown's zone defense, never got untracked after the intermission. An Andy Moe goal with five minutes gone in the third period was all Princeton could muster against goalie Steve Ayres, who stopped 14 shots. Wright made a whopping 16 saves in the losing effort.

The Tigers will host Harvard Saturday at 2 p.m. in another attempt to gain their first Ivy League victory in two years.

In a showdown for the Ivy League lead at Hanover, N.H., the women's tennis team fell to Dartmouth, 7-2, to drop to 6-4 overall (3-1 Ivy). The Tigers won only at No. 6 singles, where Aditi Viswanathan stopped Heather Staley, and No. 1 doubles in the setback.

The men's team (10-7, 1-3 Ivy) didn't fare much better, bowing to the Big Green for the first time in several decades on the Lenz Courts, 6-3. Dartmouth sewed up the victory with a sweep of the doubles matches. Greg Hartch, Kit Codik and Jeff O'Dwyer provided the Tiger victories in singles competition.

Saturday. Attacker Catherine McCarthy, back in action after suffering a concussion at Lehigh April 6, showed no signs of having suffered from the layoff, pouring in eight goals to lead the attack. McCarthy also dished out two assists for Princeton, which led the attack. McCarthy also dished out two assists for Princeton, which led, 12-1, at the half.

The Tigers hosted the No. 1 team in the country, Penn State, on Tuesday. Tomorrow, they will visit Penn before journeying to face Dartmouth Sunday in a game originally scheduled for April 1.

Baseball coach Tom O'Connell saw last Tuesday's game against Lafayette as an opportunity to try out some of his freshman pitchers, but after the Leopards exploded for 10 runs and 11 hits, the reviews for the Class of '92 were decidedly mixed. Rookie Peter Frend started and sailed through the first two innings with a 1-0 lead, but ran into trouble in the third, surrendering a pair of runs.

Things then went from bad to worse in the fourth, as Frend gave up a two-run single for 4-1 before getting the hook. His replacement, classmate Allen Popowitz, didn't do much better, walking five and uncorking four wild pitches as the Leopards pushed across six runs in the frame.

A three-run double by Steve Burns and co-captain Jeff Barton's seventh home run of the year helped the Tigers narrow the lead somewhat, but it wasn't enough to prevent their third loss in five games.

The batsmen (14-8-1, 2-2 EIBL) played Navy Monday and were scheduled to play Penn Tuesday. Thursday, Bucknell comes to Clarke Field for a single game at 3 p.m. Princeton will then journey to Cornell for a doubleheader against the Big Red Saturday.

Men's Lacrosse Sinking. What began as a promising season for the men's lacrosse team is quickly becoming a mere repeat of the past few campaigns, as the squad dropped a pair of one-sided decisions to Penn and Brown to remain winless in the Ivy League.

In their last four games, all losses, the laxmen have had difficulty generating much offense, as opposing defenses have focused on stopping big guns John Kenny and Andy Moe. Both the Quakers and Bruins were able to do that with zone defenses and thus shut down the Tiger attack.

On Philadephia's Franklin Field, the league-leading Quakers erupted for six unanswered goals in the third period to break open a 5-2 game and cruise to a 12-4 victory.

ESTRADA ERASED: Princeton High pitcher Luis Estrada is a dead duck at the plate in the second inning as West Windsor catcher Greg Papciak makes the tag. West Windsor went on to pound Estrada Friday for 15 hits and a 17-5 win.

The netwomen will host Cornell Saturday and Syracuse Sunday, while the men's team will play at Army Friday and at Cornell the following day.

Crew Wins Platt Cup. The lightweight crew easily outpaced Rutgers and Cornell at Ithaca, N.Y., to win the Platt Cup. The Tiger varsity boat crossed the line in 5:50.0, eight seconds ahead of the Knights and 12 in front of the Big Red. Princeton lost only one race the entire day, the junior varsity event. Next up for the lights is a race Saturday against Penn on the Schuylkill River.

The Tiger heavies lost to the Quakers for the second time this year, coming up a good eight seconds shy in last Saturday's race on the Harlem. Princeton, which outpaced Columbia by nine-tenths of a second to take second place in the varsity event, had little to cheer about besides the first freshman boat's victory over the Lions and Quakers. Saturday, the heavyweights will try to bounce back on Lake Carnegie against Harvard and MIT.

The women's varsity crew gave a good account of itself last weekend at the Redwood Shores Classic in Redwood City, Calif., placing third overall behind Harvard-Radcliffe and Stanford. The Crimson ran the course in 6:34.1, followed by the Cardinals in 6:37.0 and the Tigers in 6:39.3. In a preliminary race Saturday, the Princeton rowers had upended Washington — the national champion in five of the last six seasons — by a full six seconds. Coach Rowe's squad will be at Yale for a dual meet this Saturday.

The Tiger golf team stormed back from a seven-shot deficit in the last 18 holes to nip Yale for the Ivy League title last weekend. Princeton finished with 960 strokes, three ahead of the Elis and 10 fewer than third-place Columbia. Co-captain Jason Mraz, a Princeton resident, keyed the effort by winning the individual title with a sizzling 79-76-74-229 showing despite heavy rain Saturday. Both Mraz and Trip Morris, who finished seventh, earned All-Ivy honors for the Tigers, who will host the Princeton Invitational this weekend at the Springdale Golf Course.

The men's track team received an NCAA-qualifying high jump from Charles Forlidas in its 83-80 upset of Cornell Saturday. Forlidas jumped 7'3½" to earn a spot in the Nationals at Provo, Utah, next month. The women's team, meanwhile, got victories from co-captain Nahatanzi Rewayo in the 100- and 400-meter hurdles to roll over the Big Red, 81-63.

The men tracksters will be at the Rutgers Relays Friday before joining the women for the Georgetown Invitational over the weekend.

PHS Nine Is Outslugged; Shockley Out for Season

Princeton High lost more than a ball game last week.

It lost Tom Shockley for the rest of the season when the senior slugger tore ligaments in his left ankle sliding into third base in the third inning in Friday's home opener with West Windsor. It lost the game 17-5. Shockley is irreplaceable.

———

"I really have nobody to replace him," said PHS coach Larry Mansier. "We're just going to have to pull up our socks a little bit more. In addition to being an all-round player, he was one of our two starting pitchers." Shockley was on the mound the previous week for Princeton's second game with Princeton Day School — a game rained out after 1½ innings of play.

"He was a real hustler, a real team leader. He was hitting the ball well and I feel sorry for the guy," said Mansier. Ironically, the mishap that sidelined Shockley need not have happened.

Shockley, batting clean-up, had singled up the middle in the first inning when PHS scored two runs to take a 2-1 lead, its only one of the game. In the third, he connected again for a long drive. "He really crushed it," recalled Mansier. "It would have been out in almost any ball park and he really didn't need to slide."

But as he approached third base, Shockley started a three-foot slide. "Too late," Mansier said. "His foot hit the bag. The bag didn't move but his foot did."

Almost forgotten in the injury to Shockley was that West Windsor won the game handily, 17-5. The loss left the Little Tigers with an 0-2 record. Ahead is a scheduled meeting with Hopewell Valley, a big game with Hamilton here Friday at 3:45 and a Tuesday contest with Notre Dame. "Boom — boom — boom," said Mansier.

West Windsor took a 1-0 lead in the first on a booming home run by centerfielder Ryan Douglas that cleared the right field fence. Douglas also added a double and a single to drive in five runs for the Pirates, who breezed to their third win in four outings.

But PHS came right back to score a pair of runs. After Scott Petrone had scored on a wild pitch, Shockley and pitcher Luis Estrada lined shots to put runners on second and third. Danny Page followed with another rope over second but the rally was cut short when Estrada was thrown out on a play at the plate.

The Pirates, just warming up, teed off on Estrada in the second inning for five runs and scored six more in the fifth, collecting 20 hits in all. Estrada lasted five innings and was raked for 15 hits and 15 runs. Sophomore Dave Long hurled the last two innings.

"Easily our best hitting day of the season," said WW coach Rex Walker after the carnage.

"They just kept on hitting and we didn't," commented Manster. "These kinds of days — they do happen. Everything they hit just seemed to drop in by a few feet but they did blast some, too. It looked like a hitting contest out there."

PHS added two runs in the third. In addition to Shockley's pair of hits, PHS also got two from Estrada and Page. One of Page's blows was a triple.

Kevin Durling pitched the first five innings for WW to pick up the win.

PHS Laxmen Even at 2-2 After Loss to Columbia

The Princeton High lacrossse team was charged up Thursday. A win over visiting Columbia would be its third of the young season and would surpass only the two that the Little Tigers could muster all last season.

PHS will have to wait for that third win: Columbia dominated the play in posting a 10-4 victory, the second in five contests for the Maplewood team. PHS evened its record to 2-2.

Ahead are two strong opponents for the Little Tigers. This Wednesday they will be at undefeated Johnson Regional, described by PHS coach Jim Harris as "probably one of the top three in the state." Johnson (5-0) defeated Columbia, 6-4, in its opening game of the season.

On Saturday, the Little Tigers will take on Bridgewater East in Bridgewater.

For a brief moment — all too brief it would turn out — it appeared that PHS might claim that third win when, in the opening minutes of play, Anthony White streaked down the field and rifled a shot past Columbia goalie Jarrett Hamberger for a 1-0 lead. Columbia tied it at 1 soon after and then quickly took a 2-1 lead. PHS was dormant for most of the game until the final period when it scored twice. White finished with two goals and an assist and Mitch Jensen accounted for the other half of Princeton's four goals.

BRANNON SCOOPS: Princeton High goalie Ryan Brannon prepares to scoop the ball up after a shot by visiting Columbia team fails. Columbia was more successful later on, as visitors scored a 10-4 victory.

"It was one of the worst games we've played," said a dejected Harris. "I don't know what to attribute it to; we're just going to try to forget it and go on from there."

In contrast to Princeton's play, Harris said he felt that Columbia "played its best game of the season against us. They peaked at the right time. It happens in lacrosse. Anybody can beat anybody."

The key to the outcome, Harris said, was ground balls, where the visitors enjoyed a 14-5 margin in the first period. "It came down to, I think, ground balls and faceoffs. We'd get our stick on the ball but we couldn't control it. There were a lot of defensive errors," continued Harris, "by the whole team. Control of the ball is important and we were not able to do it."

The following day, the team and the coaches viewed films of the game. "I trust they learned a lot from it," said Harris.

Next Wednesday, is a key game for PHS against rival Lawrenceville School, always a strong contender in the state. "We always play them tough; I hope we can again this year," Harris commented.

"If we can sustain our intensity...it's something we've talked about all year...maintain the level of intensity for four quarters. That's what killed us last year."

PHS Girls Lose, 10-7, To Peddie in Lacrosse

A 10-7 loser to Peddie last week, the Princeton High girls' lacrosse team will turn its attention next to a meeting with town rival Princeton Day School and a final meeting with Strath Haven.

Although the meeting this Wednesday at 3:45 with visiting PDS will not affect Princeton High's standing in the Garden State League, Little Tiger coach Joyce Jones said that she was looking forward to the contest. "It's always very competitive. The rivalry is there. It's usually well-played in front of a lot of spectators and I expect a challenging match."

———

On Saturday, the Little Tigers will make the two-hour journey to Strath Haven, Pa., which Jones reports will be the last meeting between the two teams in the short-lived series. "We'd like to finish it off with a win," said Jones, who recalled that last year the two teams only played a half before the match was called.

Earlier in the week, the team was scheduled to host a strong Montville team. Princeton's game with Morristown last Friday was rained out and has been rescheduled for the third week in May after the cutoff date for the State tournament.

The problems Princeton High experienced with Peddie can be summed up in two words: Christie Sansone. The former Radnor, Pa. 100-point player — where she earned All-American honors as a junior — has since enrolled as a second-year junior at Peddie. Described by Jones as "a scoring thorn in our side," Sansone scored seven of the Falcon 10 goals, four in the second half.

"She's a super player, an evasive and explosive player. I was impressed with her ability to score," continued Jones.

Not that PHS didn't have opportunities of its own. "They didn't shut us down. We had our opportunities to score one-on-one on the goalie but we didn't make them count," said Jones. "I was pleased that we were able to create our opportunities, disappointed that we weren't able to capitalize on them."

Kristy Collins, with three goals and one assist, led the PHS attack, which saw the Little Tigers trail the visiting Falcons 6-5 at the half. "She's our catalyst, she makes things happen," said Jones of Collins, who has scored 11 goals this season.

Sophomore Sonya Soderberg, who Jones says improves with every game, scored for PHS as did Alisa MacNeille, Rebecca Savidge and Piper Darley. Savidge leads the team in scoring with 14 goals, and Jones cited Darley for her interceptions and ground ball possessions. "She played well."

Jones also commented that the half-dozen players who were in France with the school choir got in some playing time and "did some exciting things." Now that everyone is back, she said, "we'll see what's missing from our game."

Leschly Stays Unbeaten As PHS Netmen Lose 1st

The Princeton High tennis team polished off Ewing, 5-0, last week for its fourth win in four starts but the string ended when it faced Lawrenceville on Friday. The Larries won every match but first singles, where Princeton's Nick Leschly came from behind to defeat Mark Sigalove, the Big Red PG, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

"This does a lot for my confidence," said the PHS junior, who described the match as the biggest he's been in. It should also bolster Leschly's confidence for his showdown meeting May 19 with Moorestown's Mike Sell, the top-ranked player in his age bracket in the Middle States area.

Elsewhere, PHS did not fare as well. Second singles Mark Glogoff bowed to the Larries' Tom Orvald, 2-6, 2-6, and Dan Horowitz was a 1-6, 1-6 victim at third singles.

Lawrenceville also captured both doubles in straight sets. Seth Socolow and Daman Ross went down, 1-6, 3-6, and Dave Williams and Matt Goida bowed, 3-6, 3-6. The win was the third in five matches for Lawrenceville, which last week captured the Kingswoood Tournament.

In upcoming matches, PHS will play Hightstown this Wednesday, host Hamilton on Friday and oppose Notre Dame on Tuesday.

PDS Girls Split a Pair; Winning First in Rain

Obviously the Princeton Day girls' lacrosse team is not a fair weather team. After losing its first two games this season under sunny skies, the Panthers won in their third try in a steady rain.

The victory came against Taft School last Saturday afternoon, after many of the girls had been up most of the night at a prom the previous evening. The combination of little sleep and rain did the trick.

Coach Kim Bedesem's team did not get off to an auspicious start, allowing the visitors the first three goals of the game. However, PDS got the next two, and had closed to within one, 6-5 at the half.

After the intermission, PDS allowed Taft a quick goal off the opening faceoff, but then shut down after that. For 24-plus minutes the Panthers' defense did not allow another score. Ani Tilden, Liz Bylin, Carrie Regan, Julie Howard, Angela Travers, Kate Leone, Casey Sheldon and Sarah Berkman all had a hand in the stout defense.

Meanwhile, PDS slowly whittled away at the Taft lead. A goal by Julie Howard made it, 7-6. Kysha Whie got the tying marker, and Alicia Collins' tally with 2:25 left was the game-winner. Jenny Myers' three first half goals kept PDS from falling to far behind, and Maureen Cahill and Edith Roberts added one apiece.

———

The weather was lovely Friday afternoon, but PDS never did catch up against Greenwich Academy, losing 10-7. GA broke an early 1-1 tie, scoring four consecutive goals, and PDS never got closer than three after that. Some highly questionable officiating cost the Panthers two goals late in the second half when they were trying to mount a comeback.

One of those was for a "dangerous follow-through" after a scoring shot by a PDS girl. It's high time they took girls' lacrosse out of the tea parlor and put it on the playing field.

Myers again led the Panthers with a pair of goals; Howard, Roberts, Collins, Cahill and Susan Lebovitz had one apiece. Four consecutive away games are ahead for PDS, starting with Princeton High on Wednesday and Germantown on Friday.

These first six games are against the toughest teams and "it will show us what it takes to win," commented Bedesem earlier this week. "We do need to start scoring more goals. Eight is not enough to win most games.

"We don't have a high-powered attack, so we need to take advantage of every opportunity, and make our shots count."

Slow Start Is Recorded By PDS Baseball Team

First it was the weather, knocking out the opening three games on the schedule; now it's the players themselves who are responsible for the slow start by the Princeton Day baseball team.

The Panthers lost a 9-8 decision to Pennington last Wednesday, and followed with a 9-2 defeat by George School on Friday. Coach Paul Brown sees mental mistakes as a large part of the problem. He sees a lack of concentration in the field as a reason for players throwing to the wrong base, not hitting the cutoff man and things like that.

Wednesday's game was a see-saw affair with PDS rallying from a 4-2 deficit to take a 7-4 lead in the sixth. But starter Carlos Sagebien, who gave up 10 hits, struck out three and walked four, weakened in the seventh, allowing the visitors to tie the score. Relief pitcher Joel Totten got the final out in the seventh, but allowed two runs on three hits in the top of the eighth, and took the loss.

A last ditch rally in the bottom of the eighth left the Blue and White one run short. PDS banged out 11 hits, with Sang Ji and Joel Totten getting three apiece. Scott Kelberg had a pair and drove in two runs.

Two days later against George, the Panthers saw their run and hit production fall off, and their error total increase to seven in a sloppily played game. Totten started this game, going six innings, and giving up all nine runs, five of them earned, on nine hits. He struck out five and walked four.

Scoring once in the second and fourth, and three times in the third, George built up a 5-0 lead before PDS broke into the scoring column. The winners added two more in the sixth and seventh. Carlos Sagebien and Rich Schragger led PDS with two hits apiece.

This Friday PDS will meet Lawrenceville at home at 4 p.m., and Saturday it will travel to New Brunswick to face Rutgers Prep.

PDS Tennis Wins First 2 Without Losing a Match

If the weather will cooperate this spring, the Princeton Day tennis team may stack up a lot of victories. The Panthers are 2-0 so far, but have lost two other matches to the weather.

Rome Campbell's team opened with a 5-0 triumph over Neumann Prep, and last week posted the same score against Morristown-Beard. Rain forced a Hun match to be rescheduled for Friday, May 5.

A sophomore, Tom Galli, the eighth man on the team as a freshman, has vaulted into the top singles spot. He won his Mo-Beard match, 6-1, 6-1. Scott Newhall has moved from third singles to second, and dropped just one game in his match.

The Panthers have been strengthened immeasurably by the transfer of David Suomi from West Windsor. The sophomore was extended to three sets last week, winning 6-3, 5-7, 6-2.

In doubles play a pair of juniors, Dave Ragsdale and Jason Hollander, who are battling Suomi for the third singles spot, won easily, 6-1, 6-1. The second doubles team of Mike Herez and Doug Adderly completed the sweep with a 6-4, 6-2 triumph.

This Friday PDS will find out just how good it is when it takes on perennial prep power Newark Academy on the Minutemen's courts.

Winless Streak Is Over For PDS Lacrosse Team

It was rainy and cold last Saturday afternoon, but there was a warm feeling inside the players of the Princeton Day boys' lacrosse team.

The Panthers knocked off Chatham, 12-2, for their first victory since May, 1987, when they defeated Hun, 10-8. Nineteen consecutive losses, including three to start this season, followed.

In the middle of a week of vacation, Chatham was missing some of its better players for this contest, but the Blue and White looked strong enough to win no matter who showed up. Coach Steve Czelusniak was pleased with the way his players passed the ball around, instead of trying to do it alone. He cited the play of attackman Chris Lake as especially productive.

PDS wasted no time going after its first victory, scoring seven times, five in the first period, before Chatham found the range. It was 8-1 at halftime, and PDS coasted to a 12-2 triumph. Midfielder Jeff Zawadsky had a pure hat trick (scoring three times without a score by someone else), and picked up two assists to lead PDS. Andy Dykstra tallied four times from his attack position; Lake and Lucas Altman had two apiece, and Ara Baronian tallied once. Jim Grey had two assists.

Steve Fulmer, four saves, and Judd Henderson, six, split the time in goal.

Last Wednesday, the Panthers stayed with Peddie through three periods, but the Falcons broke away from a 3-3 tie in the fourth, scoring four times for a 7-3 triumph. PDS played well in the first period, but had nothing to show for it, as the home team scored twice, and held on to a 2-0 lead at the half.

But some aggressive play in the third helped bring Princeton Day back into the game. A pair of road contests are on tap next, Wednesday at Hun, and Friday at Pennington, which has just started to play the sport in the past couple of years.

PDS Teams Take 2 of 5 In Monday Sports Action

The Princeton Day girls' lacrosse and boys' tennis teams posted victories Monday afternoon, but the baseball, softball and boys' lacrosse teams did not fare as well, losing lopsided contests.

Building on its victory last Saturday, the girls lacrosse team walloped Kent Place, 16-9, scoring twice as many goals as it had in any previous game. PDS got off to a slow start, falling behind, 4-1, in the early going, but at that point the offense came alive, and tallied 11 unanswered goals.

Jenny Myers was in top form, getting five, followed by Maureen Cahill with three and one assist. Edith Roberts, Liz Bylin, Julie Howard, Sarah Berkman, Jenny Thurman, Hillary Kann and Janice Abud all scored once.

In tennis, Pingry became the Panthers' third victim in a row. Tom Galli, Scott Newhall and Dave Ragsdale all won two-set matches, the first two with relative ease, while Ragsdale took a little longer in his 6-3, 6-4 triumph.

Jason Hollander and David Suomi had little trouble at first doubles, winning a pair of 6-2 sets, but Doug Adderley and Mike Moyer lost a tough three-set decision, 6-4, 5-7, 6-7, after letting a couple of match points slip by in the second set. Their Pingry opponents then took the third set, winning a 9-7 tiebreaker.

Softball Loses 10-1. The softball team ran into trouble against Lawrenceville, and lost a 10-1 decision, getting just five hits along the way. That came on the heels of a 11-1 pounding by Montclair-Kimberley last Friday. However, the Blue and White did knock off Hun, 11-6, last week, and its record now stands at 1-3.

Lawrenceville also handed the boys' lacrosse team a one-sided defeat, running up a 16-1 score. Chris Lake scored the lone goal for PDS, which saw its record fall to 1-4.

The baseball team is still looking for its first win, after losing its third contest, 10-4, to Hun. The PDS offense, which was limited to four hits, was quiet until the final inning when it belatedly erupted for four runs.

Hun Nine Fights Back With Three Triumphs

Shaking off an opening loss to Peddie, The Hun School baseball team rebounded last week with three consecutive wins.

The Raiders defeated Admiral Farragut Saturday in Toms River by the football score of 22-8 in a contest called after five innings because of rain, jolted Academy of New Church the previous day when they broke a 2-2 tie with an 11-run inning for a 13-2 triumph, and blanked Lawrenceville to start the week with a highly-satisfying 5-0 victory behind the five-hit pitching of Pat Murphy.

The games will come at an even faster pace this week. Weather permitting, by week's end Hun will have played seven games in nine days. Included are a double-header Saturday against Ewing in the morning and a makeup with Montgomery in the afteroon and a contest Thursday at Hamilton.

"We'll find out how deep our pitching staff is this week," said Hun coach Bill McQuade.

When Hun scored eight runs in the first against Admiral Farragut, McQuade said he was just hoping to get the game in. If he felt Hun had a lock on the outcome, it disappeared when the Future Admirals rallied for seven runs in the fourth to tie the score at eight. A couple of bloop hits off starter Mike Shourds, three errors, a hit batsman and seven or eight walks, recounted McQuade, let the home team back in the game. But not for long.

In the next inning, Hun exploded for 14 runs. "We hit the ball fairly well. Our bats came alive; it was nice to see the kids hit the ball," said McQuade.

Hun had 17 hits in all, including three each by shortstop Tom Vogler and first baseman Cecil Boone. Second baseman Tom Chiacchio drove in three runs with a pair of hits, while Larry Foster and Matt Hyldahl also blasted two hits each, Hyldahl plating two runs with a double in Hun's big inning. Murphy hurled the last two innings in relief to get the win, his second.

McQuade called Hun's victory over Academy of New Church in Bryn Athyn, Pa., the previous day "deceiving" because the game was tied at two in the fifth. The first six Hun batters struck out.

The home team scored an unearned run in the first on a walk and two Hun error, and Hun tied it with an unearned run of its own. After ANC went ahead 2-1, Hun knotted the score again in the fifth when Hyldahl tripled home Chiacchio, who had walked.

Hun broke the game open with 11 runs in the sixth, capitalizing on the departure of the ANC starting pitcher who had to leave when his arm stiffened up. Two relief pitchers who followed couldn't get the ball over the plate and walked in a number of runs, McQuade reported.

Carl Zentmayer, who started and went the distance for Hun, giving up just two hits, got the win.

Murphy Five-Hitter. Murphy had all the answers against Lawrenceville, limiting the Larries to five hits. He also fanned five and walked five.

"He pitched a tremendous ball game," said McQuade. "He got ahead of the hitters with a nice fast ball inside. Only a couple of balls were hit hard off him. He's going to be a big plus for us.

"It's always nice to beat Lawrenceville," smiled McQuade. "Goodness knows, we face them often enough." Last year, Hun outslugged the Big Red, 11-8, in a regular season game, but lost a 4-3 decision to Lawrenceville when it counted in a semifinal contest in the State Prep A championships.

Catcher Mike Axelrod got two of Hun's six hits, both key blows that drove in three runs. After Hun scored an unearned run in the first, it went up 3-0 in the fifth. With two out, Hun loaded the bases on a single and two walks off Larry starter Lee Klein, who issued six. Axelrod, batting cleanup, then poked a single to left, scoring one run. When the ball was bobbled, Hyldahl came around for the second run. Axelrod's two-run double in the seventh sealed Hun's first win.

Hun Destroys Voorhees For 6-0 Lacrosse Mark

The lacrosse juggernaut that Hun coach Dave Faus has fashioned rolled on last week, crushing Voorhees, 15-0, Saturday and Seton Hall, 10-1, three days earlier. Hun is currently 6-0 and looking for more victims.

"We are just playing great when it comes down to it," said Faus, after Hun had routed visiting Voorhees, the only team to defeat Hun last year in regular-season play. "They were giving 'em up and we were taking them."

It would seem that the only thing Hun has to be wary of is overconfidence. Hun next hosts town rival Princeton Day School this Wednesday afternoon, April 19, in a 3:15 contest and then visits Morristown Beard on Saturday.

"PDS gave us a run for our money last year when they weren't supposed to (Hun won, 8-5) so you can't sell them short," commented Faus on the upcoming town match. "On paper we should win, but when you add this crosstown rivalry thing, it always adds a little flair to it."

When Geri Poblete scored 23 seconds into the game against Voorhees and Duncan Dixon added another goal 31 seconds later, it was evident that Hun was charged up and it wasn't going to be Voorhees's day. Scott Gordon made it 3-0 15 seconds later.

"We had three goals in the first minute and a half," recalled Faus. "We definitely played the best we have all season. If we continue to play like this, it is going to be a fun year."

The first half was played in drizzle, the second half in the rain, but the rain, Faus felt, worked to Hun's advantage: it forced the Raiders to pass the ball around instead of going one-on-one. Nine players scored, as Hun continued to execute one of Faus's pre-season goals: pass the ball, spread out the scoring.

Poblete has 11 goals through six games, Gordon and George Cole, 10 each, Dale Beach eight, Paul Welykoridko seven and Joe Tinervin, five. Against Voorhees, Poblete and Welykoridko each scored three goals, while Cole and Dixon added two apiece. Gordon, Beach, Tinervin, Hirsh and Nigh added single tallies.

"We played great defense, too," observed Faus. "I think for the first period and a quarter they didn't get a shot off. We were clearing the ball fantastically."

It was sweet revenge for Hun, which was embarrassed, 13-4, last year by Voorhees, after winning its first eight starts. The win also placed Hun on top in the State's Biancha Division which was captured last year by Voorhees. The loss was the second in five outings for the Hunterdon County team which lost more players to graduation than Hun did.

In Upper Montclair three days earlier, Hun defeated newcomer Seton Hall Prep, 10-

Netmen Win, Nine Lose In PHS Monday Sports

The Princeton High tennis team edged West Windsor, 3-2, Monday for its fifth win and the Little Tiger baseball team lost 14-6 to McCorristin for its third defeat.

The Little Tigers did not lose a set in sweeping the singles matches but the Pirates prevailed in both doubles matches, both of which went three sets.

For PHS, Nick Leschly and Marc Glogoff both won by the identical scores of 6-2, 6-1, while Dan Horowitz took the third singles, 6-1, 6-3. Leschly is undefeated in six matches this spring.

In doubles play, Damon Ross and Seth Socolow lost the first set to Mike Jones and Dave Hicks 6-7 (7-4), won the second tie-breaker 7-6 (7-5), but lost the third set, 3-6.

Matt Goida and Dave Williams lost the second doubles, 2-6, 6-3, and 2-6 — also failing in the third and decisive set.

The Pirates' frustration against PHS continues: WW has not defeated PHS in the past ten years.

Baseball Team Outslugged. PHS almost matched McCorristin in the number of hits Monday, 8 to 6, but the Tigers could not match the Iron Mikes in hits with players on base. Chris Russell and Mike Palinczar each drove in a pair of runs, Russell connecting for a triple, and Mike Raymond scored three times in McCorristin's 14-6 victory. McCorristin won its second in five starts, while PHS slipped to its third loss.

For PHS, Luis Estrada, moving from the mound to behind the plate, had three hits in three at bats, including a double, and left fielder Dan Reed also stroked two hits, including a double.

The home team Mikes scored five runs in the fourth to break a 3-3 tie. The victors went on to plate 11 of their 14 runs in the last three innings.

PHS starter Reuben Steiger was knocked out in the fifth and was charged with the loss. Jason Plaks pitched two-thirds of an inning and Don DiDonato hurled the last 1⅔ innings. Among them they issued 16 walks.

Hun Trips PDS, 10-4. The Hun School baseball team on Monday won its fourth straight, defeating town rival Princeton Day School, 10-4, behind the pitching of Pat Murphy. Murphy struck out seven and allowed only two hits in blanking the Panthers in the six innings he worked. All of PDS's runs came in the seventh off Hun reliefer Nick Trimble.

Hun raked two PDS pitchers for 14 hits. Catcher Mike Axelrod continued to wield a hot bat for the Raiders with three hits, including a triple and two RBIs. Murphy aided his own cause with a pair of doubles that drove in five runs. Mike Vogler, Carl Zentmayer and Cecil Boone also had two hits apiece for Hun.

Hun improved to 4-1 while PDS suffered its third loss without a win. The Panthers' Carlos Sagebien, who pitched five innings and gave up 11 runs, was charged with the loss.

PHS Boys, Girls Win In a Tri-Track Meet

The Princeton High school boys' and girls' track teams both were double winners last week in a track meet with West Windsor and Nottingham.

Led by its glittering distance runner Karin Swartz, who won the 3200, 1600 and 800 meter runs, the Little Tiger girls topped visiting West Windsor, 69-53, and overwhelmed Nottingham, 96-26.

———

Other winners for PHS were Kesti Ringland, who captured the 100 and 200 dashes, Julie Nelson in the long jump and Heidi Applegate in the discus.

Jen Wolinetz, Ringland, Nicole Klein and Caty Willard combined to win the relay event.

The PHS boys defeated West Windsor, 80-49, and Nottingham, 88-43, as veteran Jerod Neas won both the 1600 and 3200 for the Little Tigers in 4:25.8 and 9:56.2.

PHS also dominated the rest of the flat races, as Dave Kahn won the 200, Aaron Burt the 400 and Dylan Penningroth the 800. Princeton's Alejandro Caffarelli, freshman Ijris Magette, Penningroth and Burt combined to win the relay in 3:39.1. WW was second in 3:52.9.

Mercer Softball Opener For Ficarro's Thursday

The Princeton-based Steve Ficarro's Auto Body women's softball team, United States Slo-pitch Softball Association New Jersey State champion the past six years, and Mercer County Women's League champion six out of the last nine years, will open play in the Mercer County Women's League on Thursday against T.J. Entertainment at Mercer Park at 6:30.

Bob Smyth, Ficarro's manager, has termed this year a rebuilding year due to the loss of several key players. Gone are Debbie Smyth (shoulder surgery), Beth Ault (maternity leave), Donna Nicholson (retirement), and Cheryl Silva (relocation). "Whenever you lose players of this caliber," Smyth said, "you've got major gaps to fill, especially in the case of Debbie and Beth, who started at shortstop and second base, respectively, and who had over 20 extra base hits and 50 runs scored between them last year."

However, Ficarro's will welcome a group of newcomers to the team this season, including Dee Dee Prickett, a 1989 West Windsor High School graduate and current freshman at Ursinus College, who was a first team All-Mercer County selection last year. Another former first team All-Mercer County player is Trish Kane, a graduate of Hightstown High and York College (Pa.) in 1988. Karen Sprague, a 1984 graduate of Ithaca College and an All U.S. Army team member in 1987, played on Ficarro's tournament team last year, but is now available full-time.

Mickey Yienger, a 1987 Princeton University graduate — where she played varsity soccer — will play this year, as will Karen Wong, a senior at Princeton. Diane Koye, a 1984 Rider College graduate — where she played varsity basketball — will join Ficarro's this season, and so will Gail Johnson, formerly of the Eagle Electric team and Mercer County's Dot's Girls. Another newcomer is Alison Aaron, a 1985 graduate of Beaver College, where she played varsity softball.

Prickett is an outfielder with good speed, Kane is a sure-handed infielder — also with speed — Sprague is an infielder-pitcher, Yienger is an infielder, Wong an outfielder, Koye a runner, Johnson a pitcher, and Aaron a utility player.

Returning veterans are co-captains Grace Durland and Cindy Lombardo, both outfielders, as are Doreen "Bip" Ragazzo and Cee Aerstin. Also back are infielders Dee Discavage, the team's leader in service, having completed 10 years, Janet Comerford and Dee Vertucci, and pitcher Clare Baxter. Outfielder Robyn Hart, from last year's team, will be available for tournaments. The coaches are Al Lombardo and Bob Comerford.

"We may have a slightly different look this year," Smyth said, "with a little more youth, speed, and depth. If everything comes together, we'll be competitive."

There will be 13 teams in the league this year. The format will have each team playing every other team twice and then two more games against teams of equal strength, for a total of 26 games. After a regular-season champion is determined, there will be playoffs among the top six teams.

Other teams in the league are Three Seasons Sporting Goods, Grove Plumbing, Dot's Girls, Eagle Electric, Miller Lite, Larkin's Gulf, Players, Mercer Spring (formerly Vermeer North Atlantic), Champale, T.J. Entertainment (formerly Valentino's Pizza), and newcomer Hamilton Fitness Barbelles.

Tigers Split with Penn, After Two Wins Monday

Princeton's baseball team came close, but could manage just a split with league-leading Penn Tuesday afternoon. Now the Tigers must hope the Quakers stumble somewhere else on their way to their second consecutive EIBL title, and that isn't likely to happen.

Penn is 11-1 at this point with just six games left to play. Tom O'Connell's team, which won a pair from Navy Monday, is 5-3.

Matt Noone hurled a 1-0 shutout in the first game against the Red and Blue, allowing six hits, while striking out five, and issuing just one walk. The lone run of the game came in the fourth when Jeff Barton singled, Brad Remig walked, and Joe Sawyer doubled Barton home.

Princeton also took a 1-0 lead in the fourth inning of the nightcap, but couldn't hold it. Sawyer struck the big blow there also, tripling home Matt Noone. The Quakers wasted no time getting that run back in the top of the fifth. Sawyer's error on a ground ball to first got a runner aboard, and he later rode home on a single. The winning run scored on a scarifice fly in the seventh

On Monday, O'Connell's strategy of sending two second-line hurlers against Navy worked to perfection, even though the Midshipmen were going with their top pitchers. Joe Sawyer, who hadn't won in three starts, got the call in the first game, and blanked the visitors, 2-0, allowing just four hits.

The game was scoreless until the sixth when two Navy errors allowed the first two Tiger hitters to reach base. A walk loaded the bases, and Jeff Barton delivered a single to left for one run. Matt Noone's sacrifice fly brought home the other.

Inexperienced freshman Kevin Butterfield had some butterflies in his stomach at the start of the second contest, and walked the first two batters he faced. That helped the Midshipmen score a pair of runs for a 2-0 lead. Brad Remig relieved Butterfield with two on and two out in the third, and did not allow another run.

The sixth was the key inning again for the Tigers, who got started on another error by Navy that allowed Remig to reach first. Peter Noone singled to left, and after a sacrifice by Matt Noone moved both men up, Sean Sullivan's single sent both home. Princeton then completed the sweep when Remig led off the eighth with a single and scampered home on Ed Hockenbury's blast over the leftfielder's head with two out.

We believe that academic excellence later in life is largely due to an enthusiasm for learning inspired during the early years when a child's motivation is high and his/her chances for success are good. Students in our program in no way leave childhood behind for the sole purpose of intellectual growth. Rather, they celebrate the special gifts of their age: curiosity, flexibility, spontaneity, will, and wonder.

We do not discriminate against race, color or creed.

OBITUARIES

Virginia Hageman Mills, 87, of John Street, died April 8 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Princeton, Mrs. Mills was a lifelong area resident. A graduate of the Apex School of Beauty Culture and Cosmetology in New York City, she owned and operated the first black beauty salon in Princeton. It was known as Virginia's Beauty Salon.

When she retired from the salon in 1976 after 45 years, she was honored at a luncheon in the Prince William Room of the Nassau Inn attended by 300 people. There were tributes to Mrs. Mills for the way she was always "doing for others." She was a lifelong member of the Mount Pisgah AME Church and one of the founding members of the AME Young Women's Association, now known as the Willing Workers of Mt. Pisgah.

Wife of the late Lt. Col. Berkleley A. Mills, she is survived by seven nieces, Hilda Simms Saunders of New Haven, Conn., and Leona "Sugie" Vernon, Jamesina Johnson and Beverly Phox, all of Princeton, Eleanor Marshall of Jamaica, Long Island, N.Y., Barbara Cruse of Harrisburg, Pa., and Adrienne Buck of Nashville, Tenn; two nephews, Henry Hageman of Asbury Park, and William Dugger of Princeton; and a close friend, Judawn L. Jones of Newark.

The service was held at Mount Pisgah AME Church, the Rev. David B. Cousin, pastor, officiating.

Michael J. Jackonis, 53, of Lawrenceville, died April 9 at his home.

Born in Dover-Foxcroft, Maine, Capt. Jackonis lived in Fort Washington, Pa., before moving to Lawrenceville 12 years ago. He retired in 1988 as a Naval Reserve Captain with 30 years of service. He was director of sales and marketing for the Chemical Dynamics Corp. in Plainfield, having joined the company in 1981.

He was formerly employed by American Cyanamid and in 1975 received that company's Golden Oval Award for being the top corporate salesman of the year. Capt. Jackonis completed numerous naval schools, including the Naval War College, Senior Officers Tactical School, Advanced Weapons School, Nuclear Weapons School, Amphibious Warfare and the Joint Service Liaison School

He received his B.S. in chemistry from the University of Maine and his M.B.A. in marketing from Temple University. He was a member of Trinity Church.

Surviving are his wife, Diana J. Savage Jackonis; a son, Lt. Michael J. Jackonis Jr., stationed in Mayport, Fla.; a daughter, Jennifer Jackonis at home; and his mother Anellie Verdigis Jackonis of Dover-Foxcroft, Maine.

The funeral was held at Trinity Church. Burial was with full military honors in Arlington National Cemetery, Arlington, Va. Memorial contributions may be made to the American Heart Association.

Marjorie E. Wood, 85, of Palmer Square, died April 14 at home.

Originally from Mt. Kisco, N.Y., Miss Wood had lived in Princeton for 50 years and was one of the earliest tenants of Palmer Square. She attended Douglass College and was retired as a librarian at

Virginia H. Mills

Jane D. Wirsig

Rutgers University. She was a member of the English Speaking Union and the Friday Club of the YWCA.

She is survived by a sister in Carlyle, Pa.

There will not be a service. Burial will be in Mt. Kisco.

Werner G. Hollmann, professor emeritus of German at Princeton University, died April 13 after a short illness, at home in Bryn Mawr, Pa. at the age of 81.

Born and educated in Germany, Prof. Hollman received his Ph.D. in 1934 from the University of Munich. His teaching career began at The New Jersey College for Women, now a part of Hutgers University, in 1937. He joined the Department of Germanic Languages and Literature at Princeton University in 1946 as a assistant professor and retired from there as a full professor in 1976.

In addition to his teaching, he concentrated his studies on Ernst Barlach, the sculptor and dramatist, and Hermann Hesse, the novelist. He also wrote articles on Wiechert, Thomas Mann, Theodore Fontane and Albert Schweitzer for various professional perindicals.

He was, at various times during his career at Princeton, a member of the Princeton Board of Advisors and The Committee for the Special Program in European Civilization, departmental representative, chief reader in German for the Advance Placement Test of the College Entrance Examination Board and a member of the Modern Language Association of America, The American Association of Teachers of German and the Ernst Barlach Society in Germany.

From 1972 to 1975 and again from 1980 (four years after his retirement) until 1985, he was the director of the Princeton Summer Work Program in German speaking countries.

His first wife, Dorothy Dana Hollman was a great-grandaughter of the poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow and of Richard Henry Dana, author of Two Yeors Before The Mast. She died in 1969.

In 1984 he married Phyllis Lame Albers of Bryn Mawr, Pa., who survives him. He is also survived by two brothers and a sister, all living in Germany, and three of his four children: Edith H. Bowers of North Andover, Mass., Thomas D. Hollmann of Philadelphia, Pa. and Leonora Hollmann-Cohn of New York City. His youngest son, Theodore F. Hollmann, died in 1978. He is also survived by his three step-children, four grandchildren and three step-grandchildren.

A memorial fund will be established through the German Department at Princeton University for the benefit of the summer work program.

Jane Dealy Wirsig, 69, former corporate secretary of Educational Testing Service, died April 18 at Princeton Medical Center following a long illness.

Mrs. Wirsig began a career in journalism following graduation from Vassar College in 1941. Graduating from the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism with an M.S. in 1942, she won a Pulitzer Prize Traveling Fellowship for writing and reporting from Mexico. Hired by CBS, she began writing for the "Morning News Roundup," for which she called in Edward R. Murrow, William Shirer, Charles Collingwood and others and wrote the narrative linking their news accounts.

Married in 1942 to Woodrow Wirsig, a classmate at Columbia School of Journalism, she became a free-lance writer while raising their three sons. She served as ghost writer for several books and collaborated with Margaret Thompson Biddle on a column for Woman's Home Companion. The Wirsigs moved to Princeton in 1952, and as a writer-editor for a public relations firm, Mrs. Wirsig became a consultant for Educational Testing Service.

In 1958 she was asked to join ETS full time and create a new publications division. In 1960 she became executive director of all ETS Information Services, and in 1970 she was appointed Secretary of the Corporation. She retired in 1980 after 20 years of service with the company.

Mrs. Wirsig was born in Boston, Mass., and graduated from Newton, Mass., High School where she was elected to the National Honor Society in her junior year and was editor of the school yearbook. At Vassar College, she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa in her junior year, became editor of the Vassar Yearbook and was graduated cum laude. She received a full scholarship to the Columbia School of Journalism.

In Princeton, she was a member of the executive board of the Goerge Washington Council of the Boy Scouts and became the second of only two women to head the Princeton Area Chamber of Commerce. She is listed in Who's Who in the World.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three sons, Alan; Guy and Paul; two sisters, Mrs. Nancy Brill and Mrs. Edward D'Auteuil; and two brothers, James B. Dealy and Robert Dealy.

A memorial service will be held Sunday, May 21 at 3 p.m. in the Henry Chauncy Center at Educational Testing Service.

———

Caroline B. Goeke, 77, died April 5 at the Paul Kimball Medical Center in Lakewood.

Born in Princeton, Mrs. Goeke lived here for 75 years before moving to Lakewood two years ago.

Wife of the late Wilfred J. Goeke, she is survived by a daughter, Annie M. Picard of Trenton; three grandchildren and a great-granddaughter.

The service was held at the Mather-Hodge Funeral Home, the Rev. William H. Jacobsen, associate pastor of the Princeton United Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

William J. Luce, 23, of Galston Drive, West Windsor, died April 11 from injuries sustained in an auto accident.

Mr. Luce graduated from West Windsor-Plainsboro High School in 1983 and worked for three years with the Graham Container Corp of South Brunswick.

Surviving are his parents, Sue Ellen and Nunzio Luce; a brother, Anthony D. at home; a sister, Christine Luce of Lawrenceville; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Young of Springfield, Ohio; and his paternal grandmother, Carmela Luce of Hudson, Fla.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at St. Paul's Church with burial in Princeton Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the West Windsor-Plainsboro Education Association Scholarship Fund, c/o Maurice Hawk School, Princeton Junction 08550.

Martin F. Mains, 82, of West Windsor, died April 8 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Gestemuende, Germany, Mr. Mains lived in Princeton 30 years before moving to West Windsor in 1958. He was a third-generation cabinet-

Items for May Auction Sought by Unitarians

The bunk beds you don't need because the kids have left home...jig-saw puzzles you worked twice the last rainy Saturday...fine old long-playing records because you now have a CD player...ravishing costume jewelry but you no longer wear the costume.

All these and more will be welcomed at the Unitarian Church "May Fair" Auction, Etc., to be held at the church on Saturday, May 6, from 10 to 4.

Committees plan to emphasize attractive set-ups for the sale items, even in the casual flea market, and there will be booths offering plants, gourmet foods, boutique items, books, clothing, crafts.

Contributors are invited to take everything they can carry to the church on Sunday, April 30, from noon to 4; Monday through Thursday, May 1-4 from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 and Friday, May 5 from noon to 6.

Contributions too big to carry (but the Auction cannot accept automobile tires, mattresses or large appliances) will be picked up if the donor makes arrangements with Barbara Lumia at 395-8086.

Of the Auction proceeds, $10,000 will be donated to social service organizations in the Princeton area.

———

Bulletin Notes

The Women's Guild of the Griggstown Reformed Church will hold its annual spring rummage sale on April 28 and 29 in the church hall. Hours on Friday are 9 to 3 and Saturday, 9 to noon. On Saturday bargain shoppers can stuff a bag for $2.

Jack and Sarah Warren, baritone and soprano, and Brian Preston, pianist, will appear as a trio at Montgomery Evangelical Free Church on Sunday at 6 p.m.

This year they have 100 engagments from coast to coast, and four recorded albums. The Warrens, based in Orlando, Fla. and Mr. Preston, based in Rochester, N.Y. collaborated for the first time in the early 80's during their master's degree studies at the Eastman School of Music. The Warrens received their earlier formal training at the Academy of Music and Dramatic Arts in Vienna, Austria and at Florida Southern College.

Together they have formed Warren Sacred Concerts as a vehicle for their personal commitment to excellence in the church's musical heritage. Individually the Warren's careers include oratorio and opera productions as well as solo engagements.

Mr. Preston made his debut at Lincoln Center and has given recitals in London, Geneva, The Hague, and Berlin. The concert will include works of the great composers, as well as hymns, and both traditional and contemporary songs.

The public is invited. There is no admission charge, but a free-will offering will be received.

The Princeton United Methodist Church will hold its Spring Rummage Sale this Thursday and Friday.

The sale will begin on Thursday at 9 and close at 5. The doors will open again at 9 on Friday and close at 3. After noon on Friday everything will be half-price or $2 a bag. In addition to clothes, there is a room full of houshold items, nooks and crannies with furniture, and a stage crowded with books.

In charge of the event are Shirlee Bleacher, Anita Beck, Louise Apperson, Vivian Burt, Alice Keizer and Lynne Hight.

Bud and Shirley Hinkson will be the guests of Westerly Road Church at its 20th annual Missions Conference, April 20 through 23. Mr. Hinkson is director of European Ministries for Campus Crusade for Christ. The Hinksons have recently returned from a trip to the Soviet Union.

Joining them will be missionaries from France, Japan, Suriname and Africa. The public is invited. For directions and further information, call 924-3816.

Hyun Kyung Chung will be the guest preacher at the Princeton University Chapel on Sunday at 11. She will speak on "Coming Home through Our Bodies."

A member of the faculty at the Women's Theological Center in Boston, Ms. Chung is completing her dissertation in systematic theology at Union Theological Seminary in New York. She graduated in 1979 from Ewha Women's University in Seoul, Korea, and earned an M.A. from Ewha (1981) and an M.Div. (1983) from the School of Theology at Claremont in Claremont, Calif.

Ms. Chung has lectured extensively on feminist and Third World theological issues and perspectives. She is a candidate for ordination in the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.).

PLANNING MAY AUCTION: Members of the Unitarian Church who are coordinating the 30th annual auction are, from left, front, Ruth Mazzarella, Jane Szathmary, Dana Powsner and Peter Lumia, co-chair; and back row, George Easter and Edna Willis. To be called "May Fair," the fund raiser for area outreach will be held Saturday, May 6, from 10 to 4 at the church.

Memorial contributions may be made to Recording for the Blind Inc., 20 Roszel Road, Princeton 08540, or to the Princeton Chapter of Deborah, c/o Marilyn Harris, 34 DeHart Drive, Belle Mead 08502.

Anthony Sasso, 84, died April 9 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Princeton, Mr. Sasso was a lifelong area resident. He retired in 1969 from Princeton University where he had been employed as a mason for 47 years.

———

Surviving are his wife, Filomena Sasso; a sister, Carmela in Italy; a brother, Domenico Sasso of Long Island, N.Y.; and several nieces and nephews.

Mass of Christian Burial was scheduled to be held this Wednesday at 9:30 at St. Paul's Church with burial in the parish cemetery. Arrangements were under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Dianne Johnson, 55, of Lawrenceville, died April 8 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Cleveland Ohio, Mrs. Johnson lived in Lawrenceville for the past 22 years. She was employed for 16 years by Princeton Medical Center.

———

Surviving are her husband, Wallace P. Johnson; a son, Brett E. Johnson of Jackson; three daughters, Jill L. Johnson of Princeton, Jody E. Johnson of Boulder, Colo., and Jackie L. Immordino of Lawrenceville; her mother, Ruth Loos Milewski, and a brother, Donald Milewski, both of Cleveland; and a grandson.

The service was held at a Trenton funeral home, the Rev. H. Dana Fearon III, pastor of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial was private.

Franklin S. Powell, 78, of Plainsboro, died April 5 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Burlington City, Mr. Powell lived in Plainsboro for the past 49 years. He retired in 1975 from Walker Gordon Laboratories after more than 59 years of service.

———

Surviving are his wife, Anna Powell; a sister, Dorothy Mawson of Mount Holly, and many nieces and nephews.

The service was held in a Cranbury funeral home, the Rev. Jeffrey P. Wildrick, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Plainsboro, officiating. Burial was in Odd Fellows Cemetery, Burlington. Memorial contributions may be made to the Plainsboro Rescue Squad, Plainsboro 08536.

Peterson's Nursery
April 17, 1989
To Our Valued Friends and Customers:

Back in 1939 when I was six years old, my father picked blackberries out in the woods and I sold them in front of my parents house on Route 206. For years after that we had a garden from which I sold fresh produce. By the time I was 17 I became a contract grower of agricultural crops. Along with handling the fresh Jersey sweet corn and tomatoes that we became famous for, I also went to Maryland for melons and the Food Center in Philadelphia for other produce. (In those days it was called Dock Street.) I averaged 120 hours a week working day and night, seven days a week.

As time went on I became interested in landscaping and through all the years that followed, I developed my Garden Center and Landscape Nursery which I proudly own. I have never sacrificed quality for price and never will. I intend to continue offering the finest quality and largest selection at the fairest possible prices.

Since 1989 is my fiftieth year in business, I decided to have a spring open house. You are cordially invited to come in and take advantage of special Open House prices and discounts available throughout our garden center and nursery. I look forward to seeing you this Saturday and Sunday, April 23 and 24 for our 50th Anniversary Open House.

Respectfully,
Charles E. Peterson, Jr.

NEW LISTING
PRINCETON APARTMENT HOUSE AND OWNER'S STUDIO

In a quiet residential area of Princeton Township this three unit apartment house plus owner's studio gives the possibility of living rent free. Ideal for either a family with kids needing their own place or a young married couple not wanting the high monthly costs of living in Princeton. Two of the three apartments in the main house are sizeable (2 & 3 bedrooms) while the eagle's nest at the top is a real hideaway. The studio in the rear is large (1600 sq. ft.) and very rustic in a nice sense with a cathedral ceiling. Call today and see it before it's gone. $369,000

HAS YOUR REAL ESTATE AGENT SHOWN YOU GOVERNORS LANE?

If not, you haven't seen the best of Princeton real estate. Allow us to tell you what you're missing.

♦ Grand brick-and-stucco townhouses with high ceilings and hardwood floors. ♦ Five elegant designs, with both traditional and contemporary floor plans. ♦ Variations that give each house its own individual character. ♦ Unusual attention to quality and detail in construction, materials and finishes. ♦ Landscaping by one of the country's foremost landscape architects. ♦ A 20-acre, secluded country site convenient to shopping and just minutes from Nassau Street. ♦ Prices from $415,000 to $525,000.

Our model is finished and being decorated, and construction on the other houses is nearing completion. Now is the time to talk to us . . . before everyone else does.

So if your agent hasn't taken you to see Governors Lane, you take your agent.

LONDON OR PRINCETON?

Where is this inviting courtyard in the middle of Princeton, almost in the University, where the homes sold in a matter of weeks? Like out of a street in Paris or London, the quietness of the interior location makes it a delight to live in downtown Princeton. Inside is a nice size living room, dining room with skylight, and eat-in kitchen. Upstairs, there is a bedroom with a large paladian window and a second spacious bedroom with two closets also. A "Pied-A-Terre" in the true sense right in the heart of Princeton and unlike any you've seen. Call today.$409,000

Interesting Part-Time Position Open at Town Topics

Whether you're new to Princeton, or have lived here many years, here is a permanent part-time job opening (three to four days a week) that will enable you to learn more about this unique town. TOWN TOPICS, Princeton's weekly newspaper, has a position open in its production department that involves a wide variety of duties related to putting a newspaper together.

These include copy editing and typesetting stories for publication, ad mark-up and paste-up. We'll teach you how to operate various computers. Of course, previous experience in newspaper work would be helpful, but not necessary. The only skill one needs to qualify is good typing of at least 50 WPM.

Our salary is competitive with other part-time jobs in this area. We also offer two weeks paid vacation, Christmas bonus, sick days, parking, and participation in an excellent profit-sharing plan; and last, but not least, a friendly and informal environment. Bring an informal resume along and come in for an interview and a typing test.
